COMPLIMENTARY ORDER OF GEN. MEADE.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, Thursday, Oct. 15.

The following General Order was published to-day:

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, Oct. 15.

The Major-General Commanding announces to the army that the rear guard, consisting of the Second corps, was attacked yesterday, while marching by the flank. The enemy, after a spirited contest, was repulsed, losing a battery of five guns, two colors and 450 prisoners. The skill and promptitude of Maj.-Gen. WARREN, and the gallantry and bearing of the officers and soldiers of the Second corps, are entitled to high commendation.

By command of Maj.-Gen. MEADE.

(Signed) S. WILLIAMS.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, Oct. 15.

Mr. E. A. PAUL sends the following to this bureau:

ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, Wednesday, Oct. 14.

The enemy made two desperate and unsuccessful attempts to-day to whip this army in detail, and destroy our train, but in both most signally failed.

Just at daybreak, between Catlett's Station and Warrenton, near a place called Auburn, STUART and A. P. HILL made a simultaneous attack upon GREGG's cavalry and the Second Army corps.

Almost the first intimation given of their presence was the opening of the batteries upon the Second corps. Our troops were speedily in position, and the enemy were repulsed with considerable loss.

Late in the afternoon HILL made another dash to cut off the Second corps. He first attacked the rear of the Fifth corps, killing three of the Pennsylvania Reserves, and wounding fifteen or twenty more.

When the head of the Second corps had reached Kettle Run, near Bristow Station, HILL made a terrible onslaught on both corps. The Second corps was on the east side of the railroad track and used the road embankment at several points for breastworks with decided advantage. The enemy charged at one time up to the embankment when a portion of the Second corps charged in turn, capturing some seven or eight hundred prisoners and one battery of artillery, mostly of HEATH's division.

Several other charges were made, and each time the enemy were forced back with great slaughter, leaving their killed and wounded in our hands. A rapid artillery fire was kept up on both sides until long after dark, when the enemy gave up and retired. I have not been able to obtain a full list of our killed and wounded, but it is not large.

In battery B, Second Rhode Island artillery, the following casualties occurred:

Chester Hunt, killed.
Martin V. B. Eaton, leg off.
John Kelly, slight.
Lieut. Penin, slight.
Edward Howard, slight.

Capt. BALL, of the Third Minnesota, was wounded in three places and under the most aggravating circumstances.

When the enemy charged up the railroad, finding themselves in a dangerous place, they waved their hands in token of surrender. At this instant Capt. BALL sprang to the top of the embankment, and a volley was fired at him, three shots taking effect.

The Minnesotians returned the fire, and many a rebel suffered death in retaliation for this act of treachery.

Our trains are all safe.

There was some artillery practice this morning near Rappahannock Station, but without much damage to either side.

The First Maine cavalry, Col. SMITH, which was cut off on Monday night, near Jefferson, across the Rappahannock, reached Bristow Station Tuesday night. The regiment escaped with the loss of a squad of men sent to communicate with Gen. GREGG, about twenty in all. Our army behaved handsomely.

Following is an additional list of casualties:

Killed—Col. James E. Mallon 42d New-York, Tammany regiment, commanding Third brigade, Second division Second corps.

Wounded—Capt. S. N. Smith, 7th Michigan infantry, Inspector-General of Gen. Webb's Staff.

Capt. Frank Wessels, Judge-Advocate Second divison Second corps.
Capt. Thos. Sinclair, 1st Minnesota—slightly.
Lieut. J. De Gray, 1st Minnesota—slightly.

The 15th Massachusetts lost two killed and eight wounded; 19th Maine, one killed and twelve wounded; 1st Minnesota, one killed, twenty wounded, and one missing; 82d New-York, seven killed, eighteen wounded.

All the above were in the First Brigade, Second Division.

The casualties in the Third Brigade, Third Division, were four killed, eighty-five wounded, and twenty-five missing

In the Fourth brigade, Third division, the loss was fourteen in killed, wounded and missing. Many of the latter were expected to turn up.

Gen. Tile, of the 10th Pennsylvania Reserves—head and foot.

DISPATCHES TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, Oct. 15—1 P. M.

The Extra Star says the firing yesterday in front, was that of a considerable engagement between a large force of rebels and a portion of the army of the Potomac; a part of Gen. WARREN's Second corps, which was in the vicinity of Bristow's Station, infantry and cavalry, being engaged on both sides.

The result was a decided Union victory; the rebels being badly beaten with the loss of an entire battery and one hundred prisoners, who fell into our hands.

Before the termination of the engagement the Sixth, Maj.-Gen. SYKES' corps, came up and assisted in driving the enemy off the field.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, Oct. 15—P. M.

The falling back of our forces from Rappahannock Station to Bristow and Catlett's is represented as a magnificent spectacle. They marched by four parallel lines. There were no delays nor confusion. Every movement was conducted with remarkable regularity.

In the recent conflict between PLEASONTON and STUART's forces, while the latter was endeavoring to effect a flank movement on the former's left, the colors of both these Generals at one time were not over fifty yards distant from each other, and while there were charges of cavalry on the left and front, hand to hand encounters followed.

Our cavalry were in splendid condition, and exhibited the greatest bravery and gallantry. Their officers say they never showed a better spirit, and in the succession of charges and rallying, obeyed orders with a coolness, regularity and rapidity unequaled in the war. The country being open, the spectacle is described as interesting and grand beyond description.

A few particulars of the engagement yesterday in the neighborhood of Catlett's and Bristow Stations have been received. It appears, the rebels early in the morning furiously attacked the Second army corps, commanded by Gen. WARREN, and the cavalry division of Gen. GREGG. The Second corps being one of the oldest, and highly efficient, succeeded in stopping the rebel advance, compelling the enemy to fall back with heavy loss, our own troops also suffering largely. The Federal cavalry in like manner fought with great desperation, leaving many killed and wounded on the field.

A considerable number of prisoners fell into our hands, and a battery of six fine guns. Gen. SYKES, with the Sixth army corps, ably supported the Second in their arduous task of defending the rear. At 6 o'clock in the evening, Gen. LEE made a desperate attempt to flank Gen MEADE by the way of Chantilly, and endeavoring to get into his rear by the way of Fairfax Court-house. In this he was unsuccessful, as Gen. MEADE anticipated the rebels by falling rapidly back to the coveted spot, thus effectually checking a movement which would have endangered both the Army of the Potomac and the Capital.

During last night Gen. MEADE ordered one of his supply trains further back in his rear, when it was attacked by a small force of rebels, probably mounted guerrillas. The teamsters, resolved not to lose the property, rallied to defend it, and succeeded in driving away the enemy, who escaped with only two of the very large number of wagons.

It is not believed there has been any fighting of importance to-day. Artillery firing was heard early this morning, but it was not of long continuance.

Maj.-Gen. DANIEL E. SICKLES, with his Staff, left here for the front at 2 o'clock this afternoon. In case of a general engagement he will take command of his own corps.

The guns captured, four of which are United States regulation, three-inch, and one Blakeley gun, were exhibited here to-day. The prisoners were mostly North Carolinians, about fifty of whom have expressed a desire to take the oath of allegiance.

Our casualties yesterday were small. A considerable number of rebel dead and wounded fell into our hands, the latter not being included in the foregoing aggregate of prisoners.

The march from our late to the present position was accomplished in the most perfect order, and without the loss of wagons or other property. The enemy were held in check at every point where they attempted a surprise or attack. The force which attacked Gen. WARREN were portions of Gen. HILL's corps.

Some of the prisoners state that they had marched from Hanover Junction, near Richmond, since Saturday last.

HIS SUPPLIES BECOMING SHORT.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

STEVENSON, Ala., Thursday, Oct. 15, via NASHVILLE, Oct. 15.

The situation continues uninteresting. Heavy rains have raised the Tennessee River. The rebel General, WHEELER, has recrossed the Tennessee at Muscle Shoals, Ala., closely pursued to the river by our troops. He was driven from Huntsville, by a brigade of our cavalry. Several refugees who yesterday came into our lines at Bridgeport, report BRAGG making back apparently, because of the exhaustion of the country in which he has been living. Though this is not good authority, there is some reason for believing that the enemy is on the move. A few days will develop it.

AFFAIRS AT CHATTANOOGA.

A dispatch from Chattanooga, 12th inst., to the Cincinnati Commercial, says:

"Deserters from BRAGG report the enemy still in force in front. They say he had eleven divisions, beside his cavalry force in the late battle. LONGSTREET's reinforcements consisted of two divisions and one brigade.

Atlanta papers say BRAGG had fifty heavy and two hundred light guns, and was to have commenced shelling on the 5th inst.

A general order was issued on the 7th inst., in accordance with orders from the War Department, consolidating the Twentieth and Twenty-first corps into the Fourth. Also ordering Gens. McCOOK and CRITTENDEN to Indianapolis to appear before a Court of Inquiry. The same order announces Major-Gen. REYNOLDS, Chief of Staff, in place of Gen. GARFIELD, who vacates the position to take a seat in Congress.

All divisions of the army will be consolidated into six divisions, to form the Fourteenth and Fourth corps, with Generals THOMAS and GRANGER as commanders. The three under the former will be commanded by Generals BAIRD, DAVIS, and ROUSSEAU. Those under the latter, by Generals WOOD, SHERIDAN, and PALMER. Gen. BRANNAN will be Chief of Artillery.

It is rumored that a fight occurred on Monday last between the Tennessee troops of BRAGG and LONGSTREET, in which six hundred were killed and wounded. Other accounts say it was between Georgia troops and WITHERS' division, the former having refused to cross the Chickamauga. A fight or sham battle certainly occurred, as it was seen from the mountain tops. The information of a fight comes from deserters."

Correspondence Between Gens. McCook and Rosecrans.

FROM GEN. M'COOK TO GEN. ROSECRANS.

HEADQUARTERS TWENTIETH ARMY CORPS, CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 3, 1863.

Maj.-Gen. W. S. Rosecrans, Commanding Army of the Cumberland:

GENERAL: In the Northern papers, statements have been published, purporting to be based upon your official dispatches sent to Washington, in relation to the battle of Chickamauga, in which I am charged with having disobeyed an order from you upon the field of battle.

Will the General Commanding be kind enough to state to me in writing whether I disobeyed an order or not, upon that field; if so, what order was disobeyed.

An extract from the Louisville Journal, of the 28th inst., is respectfully inclosed. An early answer will very much oblige, Yours, very truly,

(Signed,) A. McD. McCOOK,
Maj.-Gen. Com'g Twentieth Army Corps.

FROM GEN. ROSECRANS TO GEN. M'COOK.

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE CUMBERLAND, CHATTANOOGA, Oct. 3, 1863.

GENERAL: I have received your letter inclosing and calling my attention to a newspaper paragraph, which says that in my official dispatches I attribute our failure to overthrow the enemy in the battle of of Chickamauga to your disobedience of my orders.

I take pleasure in saying to you that no official, or other dispatches of mine, have warranted a charge of disobedience of orders by you, on either days of the battle of Chickamauga.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

(Signed,) W. S. ROSECRANS, Major General.

Maj.-Gen. A. McD. McCOOK, commanding Twentieth Army Corps.

The Atlantic Telegraph.

NOTE FROM MR. CYRUS W. FIELD.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

In your paper of Monday a correspondent asks for information in regard to the Atlantic Telegraph. Referring to statements made at the late meeting at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, he says: "It was affirmed that the entire amount of capital (£600,000) necessary for the work had already been obtained. Nevertheless, an appeal was made for further offerings of money in America. You can doubless relieve the obscurity arising from this apparent contradiction."

The contradiction is only apparent, and is easily explained. I said that the whole amount was secured, but in this way: First, £316,000 were subscribed to the new stock. Then GLASS, ELLIOTT & Co., on taking the contract, agreed that whatever was wanting of the whole amount of capital, on the first of November, they would take themselves at par. In this large offer it was supposed that several wealthy firms of London were interested. Thus the whole amount is secured, and the cable is now being made. My appeal for more subscriptions here was not that they were necessary to insure the completion of the work, but simply that it was for the interest of the United States that a larger proportion of the capital should be held this side the Atlantic.

I am sorry that your correspondent had any difficulty in finding the place or the terms of subscription. I have certainly taken pains to inform the public. Last Spring the prospectus was advertised in many of the principal papers of this City, and I spent weeks in going to our leading merchants to obtain subscriptions.

The new stock is in shares of £5 sterling. The price here would of course depend on the rate of exchange on London.

If your correspondent wishes to make further inquiries, and will call on me, at my office, No. 5 Beekman-street, I shall be happy to give him all the needed information. CYRUS W. FIELD.

NEW-YORK, Tuesday, Oct. 13, 1863.

Messrs. Williamson, Allen and Brown, Tax Commissioners:

GENTLEMEN: Understanding that, by some mistake, my house, on the Fifth-avenue, corner of Thirty-third-street, has been valued on the books at $10,000 instead of $100,000, I consent to having the amount altered on the books to $100,000.

I remain, very respectfully yours,

THE WAR IN THE SOUTHWEST.

MEMPHIS, Tuesday, Oct. 13.

Many of the rebels who were in the fight at Colliersville on Sunday, had passes through the lines, which they had obtained, it was alleged, for local purposes, and had taken the oath of allegiance to the United States. This will serve to stop what little intercourse and trade have been permitted to the inhabitants.

Gen. HURLBURT has just issued a special order prohibiting civilians from passing to and from the Memphis and Charleston Railroad. HURLBURT's force, which was sent after CHALMERS, were skirmishing with him yesterday and to-day, and have driven him beyond the water, and are still following and punishing him severely.

FROM JAMAICA, W. I.

Reports concerning the Pirate Georgia—Small Pox.

We have received files of Jamaica papers to the 5th inst. The only items of interest are as follows:

From the Trelawny, Oct. 1.

MARITIME INTELLIGENCE.—The Confederate war steamer Georgia, in command of Capt. SEMMES, formerly of the Alabama, passed this port yesterday at noon, under full steam canvas, going at 10½ knots an hour, and was on a cruise. She was boarded off this port by a Montego Bay pilot.

Since issuing our paper this morning, we learn that the Confederate steamer Georgia, which we reported off this port yesterday was observed late in the afternoon to come into collision with another steam vessel; but from the distance at which the encounter took place—as seen by the aid of a telescope—it is difficult to say whether the other vessel returned the fire or not; at all events, this much is certain, that after the lapse of eight or ten minutes, one of the vessels sailed away, evidently having the other in tow, and both were soon after lost to sight.

SMALL POX.—Letters received here by the Crusader from Navy Bay, state that the small-pox is spreading fearfully at that place. Let the Health Officer at Port Royal be therefore on the alert; and, at the same time, let vaccination be looked to by those who have neglected it.

Important Decisions.

ALBANY, Thursday, Oct. 15.

The Court of Appeals adjourned to-day. The judgment in the case of LOEWENBERG, convicted in New-York of murder in the first degree, was affirmed, six to two—Judges WRIGHT and EMMETT dissenting The distinction is distinctly that the punishment of death was retained by the statute of 1860.

In the case of JEFFERDS, convicted also of murder in New-York, a new argument was ordered, four Judges being for the affirmative on all points, the two above named for reversal, on the ground of punishment, and two, Judges MARVIN and ROSEKRANS, for a new trial, by reason of a question put to the prisoner's mother.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Thursday, Oct. 15.

The long detention and stoppage of several California bound ships en route from New-York and Boston, at Rio Janeiro and Valparaiso, coupled with the loss by capture of four clippers and the foundering of the Donaki off Cape Horn, are beginning to have their legitimate effects in our market. Many of the staple goods, usually supplied almost exclusively from Atlantic ports, are running low in stock, and some of the leading articles are now quite out of market. Prices in consequence are well sustained.

The Disaster to the Africa.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Thursday, Oct. 15.

The Africa has been beached in a sheltered place at the head of the harbor. It is impossible to ascertain the extent of the damage till divers arrive from Halifax. A portion of the stern and keel forward are entirely gone, and a portion of the keel from the stern-pos is also gone. There are other damages amidships.

The passengers have been provided for on shore.

Henry Ward Beecher in England.

From the London News, Oct. 1.

Rev. H. W. BEECHER, who has returned from his tour of the Continent, accompanied by Rev. Dr. RAYMOND, spent Saturday evening in the Tabernacle House, Finsbury, to which Dr. CAMPBELL had invited a number of the leading ministers of the metropolis to meet him. The conversation mainly turned on the civil war now raging, on which Mr. BEECHER expressed himself with great frankness and confidence. Rev. JOHN GRAHAM and Rev. JOHN KENNEDY made pointed reference to some expressions ascribed to Mr. BEECHER about the time of the Trent discussion, when he was reported as having said, "They would bide their time till they had settled matters with the South, and then!" The report which reached England stopped there, but not so the speaker, who finished the sentence nearly as follows: "Then we will show England how we can forgive an injury, and heap coals of fire on the heads of those from whom it comes."

The Great Champion Billiard Match.

KAVANAGH THE WINNER.

Irving Hall was literally jammed last night upon the occasion of the above match, by the principal professors of billiards in the United States, as well as others of less note, and a host of amateurs and other lovers of the game. The ex-champion, Mr. Phelan, presided, and upon the appearance of Kavanagh in the arena he was received with great applause by his admirers; and little less applause attended the appearance of Seereiter. Mr. Fox acted as umpire for Seereiter; Mr. O'Conner for Kavanagh, and Mr. Steff as referee.

Bets ran high, Mr. Morrissey bet 80 to 100 on Seereiter seven times, and then came out with a bold offer of 800 to 1,000, which was not taken. Early in the game the house was so crowded that notice was put up that the hall was full, and during the progress of the game there was quite a display of shirt sleeves, in consequence of the heat. At the commencement of the game Mr. Phelan requested the audience not to stamp their feet when they applauded either of the players, as the vibration of the floor disturbed the table; notwithstanding this request, frequent bursts of applause occurred as either player made a fine shot, or long count; but the best of good order and good humor prevailed throughout.

The game was commenced by Kavanagh, at about 8¼ o'clock, and was concluded by him at 12¼ o'clock, with a fine run of 60, when he played the balls within the string, and left but one to go; Seereiter not counting, Kavanagh made the winning shot, amid the greatest cheering. Seereiter only made 715 points, and, although he played well at times, was remarkably out of practice or out of luck, as he showed a large amount of very poor play. Kavanagh, on the contrary, played with great brilliancy throughout, making very few mistakes. His principal runs were 9, 42, 9, 37, 46, 7, 131, 12, 18, 31, 46, 79, 16, 37, 15, 11, 21, 17, 21, 151, 8, 74, 20, 11, 26, 12, 82, 119, 10, 19, 11, 77, 27, 31, 9, 9, 60.

Seereiter's principal runs were 9, 8, 17, 18, 14, 34, 28, 35, 13, 17, 57, 19, 18, 10, 27, 35, 12, 29, 43, 18, 22, 26, 27, and smaller counts for both players.

Immediately after the match Mr. Phelan announced that Philip Tieman, of Cincinnati, had challenged Kavanagh to play a similar match of 1,500 points, notice of which will be given by advertisement. If the four gaslights over the table had reflectors or shades, it would be a great improvement.

The match was for $1,000 a side, 1,500 points up.

THE RAIDS IN MISSOURI.

DISPERSION OF SHELBY'S GUERRILLAS.

DETAILS OF THEIR OPERATIONS.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, Oct. 15.

The following dispatches were received to-day at the headquarters of the army:

ST. LOUIS, Tuesday, Oct. 13, 1863.

Maj.-Gen. H. W. Halleck, General-in-Chief:

Gen. BROWN has beaten the rebels under SHELBY three times, and is still in close pursuit. Their escape is hardly possible.

Two expeditions recently sent into Northeastern Arkansas have catured and sent to Pilot Knob over one hundred prisoners.

J. M. SCHOFIELD, Major-General.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 14, 1863.

Maj.-Gen. H. W. Halleck, General-in-Chief:

Gen. BROWN brought the rebels under SHELBY to a decisive engagement yesterday. The fight was obstinate, and lasted five hours. The rebels were finally completely routed and scattered in all directions, with the loss of all their artillery and baggage and a large number of small arms and prisoners.

The enemy's loss in killed and wounded is very large. Our troops are still pursuing the flying rebels.

J. M. SCHOFIELD, Major-General.

REBORTS FROM ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, Thursday, Oct. 15.

Several squads of SHELBY's raiders crossed the Pacific Railway to-day, on their way south, pursued by Gen. BROWN's cavalry. SHELBY's raid is at an end, and his forces are scattered in every direction.

An invitation to the friends of Freedom in the Slave States to meet in Convention at Louisville, Ky., on the 8th of January next, to consult together, and take action, appears in the Democrat to-day, signed by several Congressmen and other prominent gentlemen of this State.

NEWSPAPER DETAILS.

From the following special dispatch to the Missouri Democrat it will be seen that the recent rebel raid was likely to have been a formidable affair, had not Gen. BROWN so suddenly checked it:

JEFFERSON CITY, Sunday evening, Oct. 11, 1863.

A refugee by the name of Dr. FRAZER, of Humansville, Polk County, informs me that the rebels, 1,600 strong, under COFFEE or SHELBY, took Greenfield on Monday without opposition. The residents are fleeing for their lives. The rebels burned the Court-house, and marched on Stockton, where were a company of Rangers under Capts. WALKER and SIMMONS, who retreated. He (the Doctor) does not know what damage was done.

On Wednesday at 9 A. M., they attacked Humansville in large force. FRAZER and all the male citizens retreated, as well as twenty of Capt. SUTHERLAND's company, in ALLEN's regiment, leaving the women and children to the rebels. From the border of the town he saw smoke, supposed to be the town on fire. The refugees retreated to Warsaw and gave the alarm. Company E, Seventh M. S. M., formed, and the rebels attacked them on Thursday morning. FRAZER heard the fight, and saw two Lieutenants one mile out, running from the town, who said all the company were killed or captured. He feels sure that Humansville is burned.

Great excitement prevails all through Polk, Benton and Dade Counties. This is his statement, based partly on rumors, and must be received with caution.

From reliable sources here I learn that the Greenfield Court-house was burned.

The rebels burned Lamine bridge and water station, and it is reported that the guard, about 12 in number, were captured, the rebels changing clothes with them, after which they were paroled. They also captured Otterville, on the railroad, but did not do any damage to the town or property.

The rebels, when last heard from, were in force four miles north of Tipton.

Citizens here are excited and formed into home guards, 200 strong, under Maj. DALE, of the Fourth M. S. M. cavalry.

An engine, with three men, near Tipton, was attacked on Friday by eighty rebels. The men fired, and killed one rebel, and ran the engine off the track.

Col. COLE is in command of the forces sent from the East. Gen. TOTTEN is in command here.

About three hundred feet of track destroyed east of Tipton was replaced to-day.

The special correspondent of the same paper says:

JEFFERSON CITY, Monday Morning.

The invasion of the State by an armed force of rebels, variously estimated at from 1,600 to 5,000, has created the most intense alarm all through the southern counties, and the inhabitants are seeking refuge in flight. There appears to be no thought among the people of resistance, as they possess the idea that the military force of the State, under present management, is inadequate to insure life and property, and for the residents of any single town to attempt to cope with the enemy single-handed, and poorly armed as they are, would be utter madness.

The rebels are said to be all mounted, well clothed and armed, and capable of performing long marches by the aid of their superior horse-flesh.

* * * * * * *

The refugees are loud in their denunciations of the State Government, in not checking the invasion at the first, before the rebels could exchange their worn-out animals for fresh ones, and gather to their standard the numerous squads of prowling plunderers who infest the counties on the border of Arkansas.

Of the destruction of the Court-house at Greenfield on Monday there can be no doubt, but as far as my information extends no further damage was done in the town. This is to be accounted for by the circumstance that these raiders were aiming at Sedalia, where there is valuable plunder, and they did not wish to delay their arrival there or impede their progress by the transportation of articles of little or no value.

Warsaw was attacked at sunrise on the morning of Thursday. At that post Company E, of the Seventh M. S. M., (PHELP's regiment,) was stationed. The commanding officer the night before received intelligence from Dr. FRAZER and other Polk County refugees, of the approach of the rebels, and to his credit be it said, instead of deserting his post (I guess he must be a Radical) he resolved to give them a warm reception, should the force not prove too large.

On the alarm being given, skirmishing commenced between the advance guard of SHELBY and the pickets of Company E. The pickets were soon driven in, and the enemy advanced in two columns, it is said, in heavy force. This was the signal for the retreat of the refugees, who left the militia to hold them in check while they saved themselves in flight. But arriving beyond the range of bullets on the outskirts of the town a halt was made by the refugees, from which point they distinctly heard the crack of rifles and the clashing of swords. * * * * *

Arriving at Cole Camp, the enemy, no doubt, learned of the large force under Gen. BROWN near Sedalia and Clinton, and deemed it not safe to attack the former place, for they turned east and struck the railroad above Tipton on Friday. They proceeded through Otterville, doing little or no damage, arrived at the Lamede Bridge, took the guard of ten or twelve men prisoners, broke their arms, made them exchange clothes, and paroled them. One soldier says he exchanged clothes several times. At this point they were in force. They had small squads out to the right and left during their entire journey, but on striking the Pacific Railroad they called them in, and proceeded east along the road, with scouts out in every direction. They burned the water station this side of Lamede Bridge, and pushed on toward Tipton, burning about three hundred yards of the track east of that town. Before this, on their approach to the town, the telegraph operator, Mr. WOODRUM, packed up his papers and retreated east. Subsequently the operator, in company with Mr. McKISSOCK, Superintendent, Capt. TURLEY and an engineer, proceeded up the road upon an engine, to reconnoitre. Arriving at the point where the track was burned, they came suddenly upon a company of rebels drawn up in line near the track. The commanding officer gave the command to advance, and the reconnoitering party was fired upon. The bullets entered the engine, but did no further damage. The rebels endeavored to get in the rear of the engine, but the engineer reversed and backed down. While the engine was being reversed, Capt. TURLEY, Seventh cavalry, seized a rifle, took aim, the commander of the rebel force fell from his horse, his heels went up and his head down, a kick and a struggle with death followed and the spirit passed "to the land of the hereafter."

The Troubles in Missouri.

A PROCLAMATION BY GOV. GAMBLE.

Many evil disposed persons are now engaged in endeavoring to produce disaffection toward the State Government, with the avowed purpose of overthrowing it by violence, if they shall be unable to accomplish their end by other means. They endeavor to attract other citizens to their support by the circulation of most unfounded statements and misrepresentations. Among this class of persons are to be found men who bear about with them commissions from the State Government, and many who have obtained notoriety only by the favor of that Government, while others of them have been removed from office, and still others have been refused office by that Government.

So far as the end which they seek can be effected by means conforming to the Constitution and the laws through the expression of the popular will, no objection can be made to any change in the Government which the people may desire to make; but the proclaimed purpose of effecting it by violence demands that the people should be put upon their guard against a scheme which may result in the complete ruin of the State.

In order to excite the public mind they have resorted to the circulation of the most extraordinary falsehoods in relation to the purposes and conduct of the State Government.

Gov. GAMBLE then takes occasion to enter upon a refutation of the charges of disloyalty and Copperheadism made and insinuated against him, by citing illustrations of his devotion to the Union and the cause of emancipation. He concludes the proclamation as follows:

It may with propriety be repeated, that no objection is here intended to be suggested to any change in their Government which the people may think proper to make, by peaceful means, in accordance with the Constitution and laws; but it is intended to warn all persons against any attempt to effect a change by means of violence.

The principle that every Government is bound to protect itself against violence, is the principle upon which the Federal Government is engaged in suppressing a great rebellion, and is applicable as well to the State Government.

Our State Constitution prescribes what shall be treason against the State, and our statutes fix the penalty at death or long imprisonment in the penitentiary. There can, then, be traitors against the State as well as against the Federal Government.

In all treasons the masses engaged are misled by the arts and falsehoods of a few designing leaders, and it is now earnestly desired that all the good people of Missouri shall be on their guard against all artifices which may lead them to their ruin.

It is earnestly desired to avoid the spectacle of a social war on this American continent, and that the people of a free country may exercise all their rights under the Constitution and the laws, without being hindered by violence, so that at last we set an example of a people capable of self-government.

To the end, therefore, that all good people of the State may be guarded against being involved in conspiracies or combinations for violence, and that all persons may be induced to exercise their own rights freely, and respect the rights of others, I, HAMILTON R. GAMBLE, Governor of the State of Missouri, while entreating the people to abstain from violence amongst themselves, and from all unlawful combinations, do admonish them that the oath which binds me to see that the laws are faithfully executed, leaves me no choice as to the employment of all the force I can command to sustain the laws, preserve the peace of the State, and punish those who disturb it. And I do admonish them, that as the highest political right of a citizen is to vote at elections, any interference, especially by the military, with the right of the qualified voters to vote for whomsoever they please, will be regarded as an offence of the greatest magnitude.

With the earnest hope that Providence will guard us against the terrors of anarchy, and that we may long continue to enjoy social order, and the blessings, civil, political and religious, which He has bestowed upon us, I commend the contents of this paper to the careful consideration of all citizens of this State.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the great seal of the State to be affixed, this twelfth day of October, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and of the Independence of the United States the eighty-eighth.

H. R. GAMBLE,
Governor of Missouri.

THE OHIO ELECTION.

CINCINNATI, Thursday, Oct. 15.

Returns from 54 counties give Brough 52,144 majority. Gain 47,777.

Of these counties 15 give Vallandigham majorities. Fairfield gives him the largest—1,127 majority. They all, however, give heavy Union gains.

Complete returns of Cincinnati give Brough 6,476 majority.

The majority in Hamilton County will be 6,753.

Seventy-one counties give BROUGH 59,900 majority.

THE VOTE OF SOLDIERS.

ST. LOUIS, Thursday, Oct. 15.

The following is the vote of the Iowa soldiers in this city, yesterday: Stone, 482; Tuttle, 42. The Ohio soldiers in the House of Refuge Hospital resulted: Brough, 60; Vallandigham, none.

PHILADELPHIA, Thursday, Oct. 15.

The Ohio soldiers in Chestnut Hill Hospital cast the following vote: BROUGH, 30; VALLANDIGHAM none. Those in the City Hospital gave BROUGH 30 and VALLANDIGHAM one vote.

REJOICINGS IN AUBURN.

AUBURN, Thursday, Oct. 15.

One hundred guns were fired in this city this evening over the Union victories in Pennsylvania and Ohio.

JOHN BROUGH, the Governor elect of Ohio, sends the following dispatch to the Press:

CLEVELAND, Oct. 14, 1863.

Our majority is over 50,000 on the home vote, and increasing.

Ohio greets Pennsylvania with shouts of victory.

JOHN BROUGH.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Thursday, Oct. 15.

BROUGH's majority in 54 counties is 52,144.

The Iowa State Election.

DES MOINES, Wednesday, Oct. 14.

In twenty-six counties of Iowa STONE is 7,988 ahead.

The only counties yet reported for TUTTLE are Dubuque and Napier, which united give him 1,175 majority.

These are large Republican gains.

STONE's majority will probably reach 12,000 or 15,000.

A Rich Revelation—An Elegant Swindler on his Travels.

Iowa has recently been the scene of the exploits of one of the most elegant members of the swindling fraternity. This individual professed to be Prof. JAMES DALE OWEN, son of the eminent geologist, DAVID DALE OWEN, late professor in the geological department of the Smithsonian Institute, and an old friend of Mr. ADAMS.

On the 3d inst., the Professor called on Mr. O. N. ADAMS, of La Salle, and presented a letter of introduction from Maj.-Gen. CURTIS, commending him to the favor of Mr. ADAMS. He also exhibited other letters, and a packet of railroad passes. He further relieved Mr. ADAMS of any suspicions and convinced him of his identity by saying that Rev. Mr. BURRIS, of Burlington, and Mr. WORTHEN, State geologist, (friends of Mr. ADAMS,) had referred him to Mr. ADAMS as a proper person to acquaint him with the geological and paleontological characteristics of the La Salle coal basin.

Prof. OWEN said he was preparing a paper on the general geological character of the Northwest, to be read at a meeting of the Royal Academy of Science at London, in June next. He informed Mr. ADAMS that he had dined with the Bishop of Dubuque and Gov. KIRKWOOD, and was returning from a visit to Walled Lake, at Fort Dodge, a visit which he had made at the instance of Sir CHARLES LYELL, of London. They chatted for some time on various topics and went to the parlor to view some of Mr. A.'s choicest specimens. There was one beautiful set of fossils, illustrative of the paleontological character of the basin, which the Professor begged as a contribution to the Institute. Mr. A. was glad to give it to him, although it was very valuable, embracing among other varieties, a fern upon a piece of cannel coal, which is exceedingly scarce, and a nautilus from the roof of the middle vein of coal. Having obtained these illustrations of the basin, the next day they went out to view the basin itself, and the geological positions of the fossils.

But the stranger, after a time, ventured a remark, and put his foot in it, but completely covered his tracks. Mr. A. pointed out to him the horizon rock of the coal basin. The professor remarked, with the coolness of an iceberg, and in a manner that seemed to indicate that horizon rocks were the simple rudiments in his geology; "Oh! yes, that belongs to the Trenton group of limestone." Mr. A. was slightly astounded at the ignorance displayed by the Professor of the Geological Department of the Smithsonian, and replied: "Oh! no, the Trenton is the upper group of the Silurian series, an outcropping of which is two miles distant, and 600 feet lower than the strata we are looking at." The professor blanched not. He was up to snuff. "Why, certainly, I ought to have known that! But for a long time past I have been troubled with palpitation of the heart, the same as all our family, as you know, and in Iowa they gave me some dreadful opiates, which make me dull and stupid. I have not recovered from their use. They affect me very strangely."

But the Professor's forte was petroleum, and so he remarked to Mr. ADAMS during this memorable walk. He was the author of a work on that subject, the copyright of which he had sold to his friend LIPPINCOTT, of Philadelphia, for $1,000. Having little use for the money, he had given the funds to the United States Sanitary Commission, of which society he was an humble agent. Mr. ADAMS asked him his views as to the origin of petroleum. He thought it was the result of the distillation of vegetable matter, a sort of fluid carbon, as coal was solidified carbon. Mr. ADAMS thought there was some foundation for that theory, but believed himself, and stoutly maintained his belief, that petroleum might be of animal origin, and the product of the coral polyps. The Professor had nothing further to say, but was immediately seized with palpitation of the heart, and the effects of the dreadful opiates, and referred Mr. ADAMS to his book, a copy of which he should send to him, as soon as his friend LIPPINCOTT issued it.

The walk at an end, the twain turned their way homewards, beguiling the time with chat on different topics. As any allusion to disputed geological theories was sure to bring on palpitation of the heart, Mr. ADAMS carefully avoided them.

During Sunday the time was spent mainly in conversation, in the course of which the Professor said that he had duplicates of Lyell's Antiquities, Dana's Mineralogy and Geology, and other works, which he would send to Mr. A. for a mere trifling sum, say $8. Mr. A. at once advanced the sum, and "no questions asked." The Professor charmed Mr. A. with some account of his geological travels in Europe. He had been in the field with HUGH MILLER, LYELL, Sir RODERICK MURCHISON, and others, and was hand and glove with them and their families, many interesting incidents of which he related. He displayed to the astonished vision of Mr. A., letters which he had received from the Academy of Science at Paris, thanking him for the researches which he made in petroleum. Mr. A. felicitated himself upon the acquaintance he had made, and was not concerned during the day upon several occasions when the Professor went to sleep just as Mr. A. reached some vexed questions necessitating an opinion on his part. Of course it was the effect of the opiate.

On Sunday evening the Professor bade Mr. A. a cordial good-bye, and left for the southern part of the State, with his fossils, fern leaf, nautilus and eight dollars, remarking to Mr. A. that he must be in Washington in a week from that time, and would then send on the books as he had agreed. On the following day Mr. A. learned his real character from the following, which appeared in the Chicago Tribune:

SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 5, 1863.

Editors Chicago Tribune:

Please caution your readers against a man calling himself JAMES DALE OWEN, who claims to be connected with this Institution, and to be traveling in the West in behalf of the Sanitary Commission. He is a swindler and impostor, and his career should be checked. He was last heard from at Davenport, Iowa.

Yours respectfully,
WM. J. RHEES, Chief Clerk, S. I.

The Chicago Tribune, from which we condense the above statement, concludes its notice of the Professor's operations as follows:

"As an instance of confidence operations, we may search police annals in vain for a more successful or brilliant one. By the aid of a little learning and unlimited brass, he has deceived Governors, Judges, clergymen, doctors, geologists, painters and women innumerable. The number of the latter he was about to marry and take to Europe is astonishing. He has carried off with him a handsome sum of money, a suit of good clothes, and a magnificent set of geological specimens, embracing the very cream of our Western cabinets. As a correspondent of the New-York Tribune, he has collected sundry greenbacks for first-rate notices of articles on exhibition at fairs, and has traveled all through the West free of expense. He has dined with the wealthy, flirted with their daughters, and ungallantly picking their pockets while flirting with them. He has hardly spoken to a person but that he has robbed them a minute afterward. He has been painter, sculptor, poet, geologist, journalist, farmer, anything to suit the crowd with which he was mingling, and has escaped in safety with his plunder. Such a man would outwit Foucus himself.

How he victimized the Iowans during the progress of the State Fair; how he was going to Walled Lake, at Fort Dodge, upon geological business; how he became engaged to several young ladies at Dubuque, who were connoisseurs in painting, all of whom he was to take to Europe next Summer, and introduce to the chef d'oeuvres of MURILLO and RAPHAEL; how he dined with Gov. KIRKWOOD; how he prevailed upon Judge MASON of Burlington to present a copy of Owen's Geological Survey of Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota to the Young Men's Library—a very expensive volume, and now out of print; how he hypothecated several works of DARWIN, LYELL and other geologists, at the expense of prominent citizens of Dubuque; how he stole a valuable overcoat from Dr. HORR, relieved ladies of their money while he was talking with them, took $80 from the pocket of an exhibitor of stock, who was showing him his animals, stole money and clothing from the Key City House—all these things are matters of record, and the good people of Iowa are loudly lamenting at their losses of money, clothing, books and geological specimens, by this meek and lowly disciple of HUGH MILLER and LYELL, who in his moments of stony abstraction abstracted other's property. We admit to sundry laughs in the sleeves and internal chucklings at the vernal freshness of our friends of Iowa, but we have now discovered where the gazelle comes in, and that the ravages of the son of David Dale Owen have not been confined to Iowa, but that his rascally strata have outcropped in our own State."

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

OUR IRON-CLAD NAVY.

Launch of the Iron-Clad Manhattan—More New Features in Our Iron-Clads.

Wednesday morning, at 9½ o'clock, the iron-clad Manhattan was launched at the yard of Mr. SECOR, in Jersey City. Over 6,000 persons were present, amongst whom we noticed Rear Admiral FARRAGUT, Admiral GREGORY, Chief Engineer STIMERS, Admiral DUPONT, and several others. The workmen commenced to strike away the blocks at 9 o'clock, and in about twenty minutes the vessel began to slide; a hitch occurred, however, which detained her on the stocks till quarter to ten, at which time she slid gracefully into the stream, amid the cheers of the surrounding multitude. Miss GREGORY, daughter of the Admiral, christened the vessel.

The Manhattan, in her general characteristics, is the same as the Tecumseh, which was launched a few weeks since at the yard of Mr. SECOR. She is 235 feet long, 46 feet wide and 13 feet depth of hold. Her burden is registered over 1,400 tons. There are some points of interest, however, in the vessel which are new in our iron-clad vessels. It is not generally known that great difficulty has been experienced in procuring proper compasses for our armored ships. The needle, surrounded by so much iron as there is in each turret, generally acts sluggishly and refuses to perform its functions. To obviate this, Capt. ERICSSON invented a very artistic machine, which enabled the man at the wheel to steer the ship by looking through a mirror which was several feet above his head, and removed from the influences of the iron, as it was thought. This, however, did not turn out permanently satisfactory, and another compass was wanted. It was found in a short time, and may be described as follows: The needles are inclosed in a tube or cylinder, with two lateral arms, forming four cylinders, meeting together at right angles, perforated through the middle, but air-tight; the weight is equal to the volume of liquid displaced; consequently it would neither rise nor fall. Within the perforation is a small gumbal ring, which attaches the cylinders to a shaft or axis, allowing free motion in every direction; yet when the needle turns or revolves the shaft must also turn. At the lower end of the shaft, and attached in the same way by a gumbal ring, is the card, which is formed of a hollow ring or short vertical cylinder, in the outer edge of which is painted the usual cardinal divisions. This is also exactly balanced by the liquid. The shaft is formed of a thin air-tight tube. Thus, when immersed in the liquid, which is water and alcohol, to prevent freezing, the whole weight is buoyed up by the liquid, and as both needle and card are attached to the axis, when one moves of course the other follows. The outer case is of brass, and forms a cylinder of five inches in diameter. This is surmounted at the top by a globe eight inches in diameter. In this globe are the needles, while the cylinder which is seven feet in length, passes into the pilot-house on top of the turret six inches, where the card is located directly under the eye of the helmsman.

Another peculiarity of the Manhattan is her compressors, which will enable two or three men to do as much work with the guns as forty have done in former times. It generally took twelve men to man properly an old 32-pounder. The Armstrong gun of the English navy required so many men that COLES' cupola was partially condemned, because the number of hands required could not be easily accommodated in their operation. Capt. ERICSSON revolutionized that state of affairs by introducing a compressor, with the assistance of which four men could move a gun which weighed twenty-one tons—seven tons heavier than even the Armstrong gun. Not content, however, with this revolution in working the ordnance, he has now improved the compressor so as to make it almost twice as valuable as it was before. Two or three men can now do as much work at the 15-inch gun as five or six did before. Of course, it would be improper to describe minutely this magnificent invention; but the announcement of its existence can do little harm.

The Russian Officers and the Institutions—What Else Awaits Them.

Yesterday morning, Admiral LISOVSKY, with a portion of the officers of his fleet, visited the public institutions, in pursuance of an invitation from the Commissioners of Public Charities and Corrections. The party was not large, most of the officers of the fleet being debarred by other engagements. The tour of inspection was pretty much the same as that made with the French and English officers on Tuesday, and afforded to the guests much interest. At Randall's Island, the distinguished guests were welcomed by the boys, one of whom made a very neat address, and which was cordially received by them. At Blackwell's Island the party were entertained at the house of the Warden. Over good cheer there was an interchange of kindly words and sentiments, and when the party broke up for return there was a general acknowledgment that the day had been one of great interest and enjoyment.

On Monday evening the Municipal banquet, at which the Russians are the especial guests, is given at the Astor House.

The merchants propose a banquet on the 29th inst., at the Academy of Music, and propose it on a scale of splendor. Two thousand tickets will be issued.

The shipbuilders are agitating the question of a grand ball. If they set themselves to the work of giving it, it will be a most brilliant and successful affair.

Next week, by invitation of the Railroad Companies, the Admiral and the officers of his fleet are expected to take a trip to Niagara Falls.

Regiments Consolidated and off to the War.

The Seventeenth regiment New-York State Volunteers, Col. W. T. C. GROWER, was filled up yesterday, by the consolidation of regiments, as named in the following order. The Seventeenth will leave today for the seat of war, under command of Col. GROWER; Col. JARDINE, of the Ninth, is Lieut.-Colonel, and J. O. MARVIN, Major. The regiment is eight hundred strong, and is the first veteran one which leaves New-York. It would be but right if the City would present it with a stand of colors in place of the old ones which are battle-worn. So short is the notice of departure that the anticipated parade through the City cannot be made. The following are the orders:

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS STATE OF NEW-YORK,
ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
ALBANY, Oct. 14, 1863.
[Extract.]

SPECIAL ORDER No. 805.—The following consolidation of troops now at Sprague Barracks, New-Dorp, will take place immediately, and the necessary preparations will be made for the commands to take the field with the utmost dispatch, viz.:

The Seventeenth regiment New-York State Volunteers, Col. WM. T. C. GROWER, will consist of the Ninth regiment of New-York State Volunteers, Col. EDW. JARDINE; Thirty-eighth regiment New-York State Volunteers, Col. AUGUSTUS FUNK; Union Sharpshooters, Col. A. M. B. DE VILLANBEAN, which will complete the regiment, and will hereafter be known as the Seventeenth New-York State Volunteers.

The officers commanding the various companies and detachments belonging to the organization mentioned, will report forthwith to their respective companies, with their men, books, papers and property.

By order of the Commander-in-Chief.
(Signed) JOHN T. SPRAGUE, Adjutant-General.

HEADQUARTERS 17TH REGIMENT, N. Y. S. V.,
NEW-YORK, Oct. 15, 1863.

SPECIAL ORDER No. 27.—In pursuance of the above order, all non-commissioned officers and privates of this regiment, who have been detailed on recruiting service are hereby ordered to report themselves at Sprague Barracks, New-Dorp, or at these headquarters immediately, without further notice, as the regiment leaves for the seat of war to-morrow, Oct. 16. Those failing to report will be considered absent without leave, and will be dealt with accordingly.

By command of Col. WM. T. C. GROWER.
JOHN P. HOLLINS, Adjutant 17th N. Y. S. V.

Cricket.

ENGLISH VS. AMERICANS.

The complimentary match in honor of "CUYP," the celebrated bowler and cricketer, came to a conclusion rather prematurely, by the action of an American belonging to the New-York Club, who, after advising the Americans to avail themselves of all the time they could to delay the game until sundown, called time before it was time, and caused the stumps to be drawn and the men to commence leaving the field; the result being that the stumps had to be pitched again and the game resumed, but not in time for the last man to be sent to the wickets, when time was called by the Umpires and a drawn game declared. The result is a practical victory for the English notwithstanding the action of the young American pupil of the New-York Club. The result has been very satisfactory, as well as complimentary, to "CUYP."

UMPIRES—Messrs. VINTEN and SHARP.

County Substitute and Relief Committee.

The Committee sent out forty substitutes yesterday, of whom only five were rejected. One was furnished for a New-York militiaman resident in Westchester County.

The Committee's banner advertisement for substitutes was stretched out across Broadway yesterday, in front of the new quarters, No. 293 Broadway. Substitutes were unusually plentiful yesterday, and conscripts had no trouble in getting them without paying any extra charge.

Our Criminal Courts—Uselessness of the Oyer and Terminer.

The semi-occasional sessions of the Court of Oyer and Terminer in this City, is an annoyance which ought to be abated. They not only do not facilitate but they actually obstruct the dispatch of criminal business. Take the present term for example. On Monday last the October Term of the Oyer and Terminer commenced simultaneously with the October Term of the General Sessions. Thus far three cases have been disposed of by both courts. If the Sessions had been sitting alone, twice that number would have been tried, and the useless attendance of a score of jurors and witnesses, would have been avoided. It is a well known fact—a fact not at all creditable to the legal profession—that nine-tenths of the criminal practice of this City is confined to some half dozen lawyers. If two Courts are in session, it almost invariably happens that when a criminal is placed at the bar in one Court, the lawyer retained in the case is engaged, or expects to be engaged, in the other, and vice versa. The result is a hindrance to the prosecution of business in both Courts. The Court of General Sessions is the criminal Court of the City, and, with its two Judges, is abundantly capable of transacting all the criminal business of the county. The Supreme Court has more civil business than it can attend to without holding sessions of the Oyer and Terminer, and it rarely happens that a case is transferred to this Court from the General Sessions for any reason that would not be equally operative for a change of venue to some other county. There is, therefore, no occasion for sittings of the Oyer and Terminer in this county, and experience has shown that they can be dispensed with.

Mozart County Nominations.

The Conference Committee of Mozart Hall, consisting of twenty-nine, met at their rooms last evening, for the purpose of making County nominations. The session lasted but half an hour, during which time the following nominations were made:

Surrogate—GIDEON J. TUCKER.
Judge of Common Pleas—ALBERT CARDOZA.
Register—JOHN McCOOL.

The Committee then adjourned to Monday, the 19th inst., at 3 P. M., to conclude their nominations.

Senatorial Nominations.

The nominations thus far made are as follows:

Union, Fourth District, WM. H. GIBSON.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

STATED SESSION—THURSDAY, Oct. 15, 1863.
One o'clock P. M.

Present—William Walsh, Esq., the President, Aldermen Henry, Hall, Chipp, Mitchell, Ryers and Hardy—7.

The roll having been called and a quorum not appearing, the President declared that the Board stood adjourned until next Monday, the nineteenth instant, at one o'clock, P. M.

D. T. VALENTINE, Clerk.

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

ALLEGED EXTORTION.—DAVID JOHNSON and CAMIEL R. JONES were arrested yesterday, on the charge of extortion. The complainant is Mr. SAM. KROMER, of No. 39 Carmine-street, who testified that on the 12th inst. the defendants called at his place of business and made threats that unless certain sums of money were paid by him to them they would have him arrested and would break up his business. Complainant fearing that they would put their threats into execution unless he complied with their demand, gave them $25 under protest. KROMER afterward made complaint against them and caused their arrest. They were taken before Justice QUACKENBUSH who held them for examination.

SERIOUS AFFRAY IN A LAGER-BEER SALOON.—Late on Wednesday night, JOHN BENNETT, with several others, entered a lager-beer saloon at No. 66 Greenwich-street, and soon after a quarrel ensued between BENNETT and the proprietor, FREDERICK BOHNERT. The latter finally drew a revolver, and shot BENNETT in the forehead. The ball struck his skull, then glanced and passed nearly half way around his head, and lodged in the wall. The wound is a very serious one, and but little hopes are entertained of BENNETT's recovery. BOHNERT was arrested by Officer MICHAELS, of the Twenty-seventh Precinct. Justice CONNOLLY held him to bail in the sum of $2,000, to answer the charge of an attempt to commit homicide.

A PORTER ARRESTED FOR THEFT.—JAMES McMANUS for a few weeks past has been employed as a porter in the store of Messrs. HALSTED, HAINES & Co., No. 374 Broadway. On Wednesday evening last, he was at the store later than usual, and at that time, it is alleged that he broke a pane of glass in a window on the Cortland-alley side, and through the opening he passed to an accomplice several pieces of cloth, and a piece of muslin delaine—the whole valued at about $40. A woman named JANE McGUIRE was the accomplice who received the goods, in pursuance of an arrangement made with McMANUS. The parties were both arrested by orders of Capt. JOURDAN, of the Sixth Precinct. They were taken before Justice DOWLING, and committed to the Tombs.

CONVENTION OF RAILROAD SUPERINTENDENTS.—The Superintendents of the various railroads in the Northern States met in Convention at the St. Nicholas Hotel in this City yesterday, for the purpose of establishing a time-table for the various roads. Mr. G. TWITCHELL, President of the Boston and Worcester Railroad, was elected President of the Convention, which held a morning and afternoon session, and closed the proceedings with a dinner in the evening. The meeting was solely for the purpose of fixing the time-tables, and the proceedings were of no general interest to the public.

THE NEW CURRENCY.—The new stamps are wretched failures, contemptible ones, and the sooner the Government withdraws them the better for its credit. They look only fit for tokens to be sold in gingerbread shops, are in vulgar taste, wretchedly engraved, and worse than all split open! One of the new ten cents was shown us yesterday all but separated from end to end. It is a pity that there is not ingenuity and taste enough to devise a currency secure and neat. Such as the specimen shown would be entirely unrecognizable in a week's use.

ARREST THE IMPOSTORS.—A woman in Brooklyn, another in this City, and a fellow by the name of E. STOCKWELL, are, or recently have been, begging money and clothing in behalf of the "Howard Mission and Home for Little Wanderers," No. 37 New-Bowery. They are impostors, and Mr. VAN METER, superintendent of the Mission, is trying to find them, that they may receive the attention of the law. Over 450 children have been received into this Mission during the last five weeks, and help is wanted, but not through such agents.

ADMIRAL FARRAGUT AND PUBLIC SCHOOL No. 11.—Admiral FARRAGUT has accepted an invitation to visit Public School No. 11 this (Friday) morning, and at 11 o'clock, Mayor OPDYKE and other prominent citizens are expected to be present. The School is in Seventeenth-street, west of Eighth-avenue. To avoid the assembling of too large a number, tickets will be required of those attending.

FREEDMAN'S RELIEF ASSOCIATION.—The National Freedman's Relief Association have sent to Newbern, N. C., by the U. S. steamer Albany, which sailed Wednesday, the following teachers: Miss MARY A. RUTHERFORD, Miss HELEN E. LUCKEY and Rev. Mr. FITZ. A large quantity of second-hand clothing and articles of various kinds for the benefit of the contrabands were shipped at the same time.

THEFT OF A HORSE.—WM. GRIFFIN, a milkman, 17 years of age, residing at No. 497 East Houston-street, was arrested yesterday by officer CRAFT, of the Eleventh Precinct, on the charge of having, on the 23d of August last, stolen a horse, valued at $80, from Mr. JOHN J. DURYEA, of No. 351 Rivington-street. Justice CONNOLLY committed him to the Tombs in default of $500 bail.

ALARM AT A PUBLIC SCHOOL.—A frame building in the rear of Ward School No. 5, Mott-street, took fire yesterday, but was speedily extinguished. Meantime, however, the children had become alarmed, but were all, by the discreet management of the teachers, dismissed in perfect order and without injury to any.

BURNED TO DEATH.—ELIZABETH O'CONNELL, a child six years of age, died yesterday at the New-York Hospital, from the effects of burns on her head and chest, caused by the ignition of her clothes while she was lighting a fire. Coroner COLLIN held an inquest.

R. M. POER, journeyman printer, will speak to the lovers of the Union to-night, at Bleecker Hall. Seats for ladies.

NEW-JERSEY.

ARRAIGNMENT OF PRISONERS.—The following persons have been arraigned in the Hudson County Court on various charges: Francis Vincent, two indictments, assault and battery and grand larceny, not guilty; John Kelly, assault and battery, pleaded guilty; John Mulslay, assault and battery, not guilty; Thos. D. Hall and Edward Seymour, pickpockets, not guilty; Elizabeth McKean, grand larceny, guilty; John McIntee, grand larceny, not guilty; Tobias Robinson, burglary, not guilty; Martin Conner, burglary, not guilty; T. Englesen, grand larceny; not guilty; Robert Scott, pickpocket, guilty; John Kieminger, burglary, not guilty; Jas. Malone and Thomas Ward, two indictments, passing counterfeit money, not guilty; Thos. Roberts, grand larceny, not guilty.

CHANGE OF TERMINUS.—The terminus of the Morris and Essex Railroad was changed Wednesday from Jersey City to Hoboken. The road will be extended to Pennsylvania, and Hoboken will be the depot for the reception of an immense quantity of coal.

CITY MISSION AND TRACT SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of the City Mission and Tract Society of Jersey City will take place in the Second Presbyterian Church, on the Second Sabbath in December.

The E. P. Christy Will Case—Christy's Body Exhumed, and Portions of it in Court.

SURROGATE'S COURT.

Before Surrogate Tucker.

In the Surrogate's Court, the will of the late Edwin P. Christy was again taken up. Dr. Bouton was placed upon the stand, and examined at great length in respect to the injuries which produced Mr. Christy's death.

The body of the deceased had been exhumed, and portions of the skull and backbone were produced in Court to show the nature of these injuries.

The surgical testimony relates to the effect which the fractures (resulting, as will be remembered, from a fall from a window) would have upon the brain and spinal cord, and consequently upon the mental capacity of the deceased.

The will of Mr. Christy was made, and his marriage solemnized, after the accident above referred to.

The matter was adjourned over until to-day.

How a Man "Digged a Pit" and his Neighbor Fell in it.

SUPERIOR COURT—TRIAL TERM.

Before Justice White.

Schiller vs. Brush.—This was an action brought to recover damages laid at $5,000 for an alleged injury to the plaintiff caused by falling into an excavation in Hester-street. The plaintiff claimed that in July 1860, the defendant was the contractor for the erection of certain buildings in that street, and that in the execution of the contract he caused a pit or excavation to which he left unguarded or unmarked by lights to be made apprise the public of its existence. That on the 13th of July, 1860, while passing by the premises about 9 o'clock in the evening, he fell into the pit and received permanent injuries in one of his legs, which has prevented his attending to his usual business, and caused him much expense in healing, &c.

The defendant set up a general denial and charged the plaintiff with negligence.

Complaint dismissed.

Robert D. Holmes for plaintiff; Therisson & Bryan for defendant.

THURSDAY, Oct. 15—P. M.

The demand for Government Securities again improved to-day at the Stock Board, on the heavy subscriptions yesterday to the Popular Loan. These amounted, through the Loan Agency in Philadelphia and the New-York office of the Treasury, to $2,467,000. The old Loans of 1881 advanced to 109@109¼ for the coupons, and 107½@108 for the registered stock, and the 5 ♥ cents of 1874, to 100½ ♥ cent.

The rumors of an adverse nature in this morning's papers, and which were received on the street in various shapes in the course of the day, from the Army of the Potomac, were availed of to advance Gold to 156@156⅛@¼ ♥ cent., and Exchange on London advanced to 171½@172¼ ♥ cent. The heaviest sales of the forenoon were made at 156 ♥ cent.

The Railway Share list was rather weaker than yesterday. The speculators at the Board and on the Street are much more equally divided between Bull and Bear than earlier in the season. The party taking an adverse view of the future of the market is, if anything, the most numerous for the day, but prices yield but slowly nevertheless, owing perhaps to the established confidence in the Dividend roads, most of which report a prosperous and growing traffic through September and for the first week in the present month. The game of hide-and-seek in old Harlem Stock goes on with much animation: 120 last night, 117 this morning, and 114@115 in the afternoon. The injunction suit of the Consolidated Stock Company against the Broadway track of the Harlem has not yet been decided, and the rumor is that one of the Supreme Court Justices, before whom the case has been argued, has expressed an opinion which, if not adverse, is calculated to delay the final decision. But this, after all, might prove an unsafe license for selling the Stock short, as witness the effect last Summer of the adverse action of the Common Council. The Stock then stood 72½, after having sold above par; it was soon after carried up to about 172½ ♥ cent. The Hudson River Shares advanced in the morning to 139½ ♥ cent., against the general course of the market. The price fell back a fraction in the afternoon. The New-York and Western Roads generally were dull and ½@1 ♥ cent. lower, as compared with Wednesday.

At 4 o'clock the following prices were made as compared with last night; the general tone of the market on the Railways being dull, and Gold lower by ⅛@¼ ♥ cent.:

The receipts into the Treasury to-day for the Popular Loan amount to $1,165,750. The Customs receipts in Gold amount to $360,000. The Associated Banks have gained $1,000,000 in legal-tender U. S. Currency, and now hold $19,650,000. The Sub-Treasury also holds about $21,000,000 in this Currency, and $8,000,000 or $9,000,000 in Gold, a large share of which will be paid out for Public Interest on the 1st of November. There was a good inquiry for Money from the Brokers to-day at 6@7 ♥ cent. The supply is easy. The speculators against the Stock-Market, curiously enough, to-day reported that the Secretary of the Treasury was in town, of course, as they inferred, to raise Money. The last heard from this gentleman was that he was in Cincinnati, and designed to visit Indianapolis. As to raising Money the public appear to be doing that for him fast enough on the Popular 5-20 years 6 ♥ cent. Stock.

GREAT SALE OF 107,000 ACRES OF RAILROAD LANDS AT AUCTION.—The Dubuque and Sioux City Railroad Company will sell at auction, at their office in Dubuque, Iowa, on THURSDAY, the 12th day of November next, one hundred and seven thousand acres of land, consisting mostly of Des Moines River Lands. Sale to be continued from day to day until all are sold.

These lands are the best in the State and possess the following qualities and recommendations:

COAL.—They contain inexhaustible mines of bituminous coal, convenient to the line of said railroad.

GYPSUM.—The only gypsum, or plaster of Paris bed in the Mississippi Valley is immediately among these lands. It is of superior quality, and is found in inexhaustible quantities. Specimens of coal and gypsum can be seen at the office of the Company.

OTHER MINERALS.—Hydraulic cement, fire-clay and iron ore are also abundant. Stone for building purposes is plenty. There is also a grind-stone quarry.

TIMBER AND WOOD will be sold in sufficient quantity to supply the prairie lands. The timber consists of black and white walnut, oak, sugar maple, bass-wood, elm, etc.

WATER AND SPRINGS.—These lands are well watered. Large and excellent springs are very numerous, so much so as to make it one of the characteristic features of the vicinity of Fort Dodge, where these lands are situate.

GRASS, STOCK-RAISING.—These lands offer especial attractions to those about to embark in stock-raising. The native grasses of that region yield nearly three times as much per acre as in the vicinity of the Mississippi River. Two varieties of native red-top grow very luxuriantly in that region. Very large herds of cattle and sheep have already been attracted thither.

CORN AND WHEAT grow much more luxuriantly in that vicinity than in the easterly part of Iowa. The soil is exceedingly rich and deep. The neighborhood abounds in limestone, which is a sufficient guaranty for regular and abundant wheat crops.

HEALTH AND CLIMATE.—The country is very healthy; and is entirely free from those diseases which prove so great a drawback in the more southerly portions of this and neighboring States.

SETTLEMENT AND SCHOOLS.—The lands are situate in the immediate vicinity of Fort Dodge, Webster County, Iowa. Fort Dodge already contains a population of 1,000 inhabitants, a fine court-house, several churches, schools, stores, &c. It is destined to soon become the largest town on the line of the Dubuque and Sioux City Railroad, between Dubuque and the Missouri River. A large portion of the lands offered for sale are situated among improved farms, where the settler will enjoy all the advantages of a partially improved country. The people of that vicinity are generally from the Eastern and Northern States.

RAILROADS.—The Dubuque and Sioux City Railroad is now completed and in operation to Cedar Falls, one hundred miles from Dubuque. Forty-four miles, from Cedar Falls to Iowa Falls, are now under contract, and being rapidly pushed forward. It is expected that the road will be completed to Iowa Falls early in the Spring, and to Fort Dodge as fast as possible. The Keokuk, Fort Des Moines and Minnesota Railroad will probably reach Fort Dodge from Keokuk nearly as soon as the Dubuque and Sioux City.

Further information can be obtained at the office of the company, where maps and a detailed description of the lands can be seen. Persons or colonies wishing to purchase are especially invited to go out and make personal examination, and satisfy themselves with regard to the above representations.

The company obtained the title to the lands by direct grant from Congress, and will make warranty deeds to purchasers.

Terms of sale—Cash.
JAMES M. McKINLAY, Secretary.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

LLEWELLYN PARK.

CHANGE OF ROUTE AND TIME-TABLE—GREAT INCREASE OF THE FACILITIES FOR REACHING THE PARK BY THE NEW RAILROAD VIA HOBOKEN, AND THE THREE FERRIES, BARCLAY, CANAL AND CHRISTOPHER STS.

LLEWELLYN PARK is a tract of 500 acres of land, beautifully situated on the eastern slope of Eagle Ridge, (Orange Mountain,) with a surface finely diversified, embracing deep ravines, bold, rocky cliffs, brooks of the purest spring water, picturesque old oaks, beeches and tulips, and a noble forest of the various native evergreen and deciduous trees.

It is laid out and embellished with drives, walks, &c., in the modern natural style of landscape gardening, and 50 acres, known as the "Ramble," have been deeded in trust for the exclusive use and enjoyment of the purchasers of land lying within the Park.

The rest of this tract of land, containing about 500 ACRES,
has been divided into Villa Sites, of from
ONE TO TEN ACRES EACH.

It was selected with special reference to the wants of citizens doing business in the City of New-York, and yet wishing accessible, retired and healthful homes in the country, but may be considered equally attractive to all citizens of the United States who contemplate locating in this neighborhood. Sloping to the southeast, the best exposure for health, cultivation and protection from the winds of Winter, it is favorably situated to catch the sea breezes which prevail in Summer.

The whole tract abounds in pure, soft spring water.

It is believed that no spot within 20 miles from New-York is in all respects so healthy as the side of this mountain. It is almost the only locality so near the City where there is no fever and ague.

Purchasers of sites, desiring to build of stone, can obtain the material on the premises free of charge.

The privacy of the Park and of all the sites is secured by lodges, and gatekeepers at the entrances. The main entrance is on the valley road, one mile from North Orange Railroad station. As we ascend along the Park avenues—seven miles of which are completed—Newark, New-York, and their bays; Brooklyn, Staten Island and the Narrows are all taken at a glance. Upon reaching the top of the mountain, 700 feet above the level of the sea, a landscape more than 100 miles in extent spans the horizon. Cultivated fields and country seats, villages, towns and cities, ponds, rivers and bays, with the Neversink hills at the south; Nyack Mountain, Haverstraw Peak and the Highlands toward the north, with Long Island and the ocean in the east—all lie revealed to the eye. This natural panorama is acknowledged by all to be one of the finest in America.

LLEWELLYN PARK is less than one hour from New-York City, via Morris and Essex Railroad, eleven trains per day each way, viz.: Foot of Barclay-st. A. M.—7:45, 9, 9:15, 11:30, 12:30. P. M.—1, 2, 3:30, 4, 5, 5:15, 6:15.

Returning from Orange, A. M.—1, 6:35, 7:30, 8:54, 9:20, 10:39. P. M.—1:48, 3:19, 3:54, 4:47, 6:29, 7:12. And via New-Jersey Railroad, at the foot of Cortlandt-st., and Orange and Newark horse railroad, twenty trips each way daily.

For ease of access, beauty and variety of scenery, for healthfulness of climate, for the intelligence and moral order of its population, in short, for all those considerations which combine to render a region attractive as a family residence, it is believed that the vicinity of Orange, especially the mountain side, possesses advantages not surpassed, if equaled, by any other place in the vicinity of New-York.

For maps, terms and particulars, and cards of admission, apply to the proprietor, L. S. HASKELL, at Library Building, Orange, Essex County, N. J., or T. B. MERRICK, No. 69 William-st., N. Y.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

The report which we published yesterday concerning the falling back of the Army of the Potomac from Rappahannock Station to Manassas Plains, is fully confirmed by our dispatches received last night. The movement is described as having been splendidly executed, without the slightest confusion. The battle of Wednesday, of which our dispatches yesterday gave the first intimation, turns out to have been a series of brisk engagements between A. P. Hill's corps and the Second and Fifth corps of the Army of the Potomac, in which the cavalry on either side took part. In each of these encounters the fighting was stubborn, but our men succeeded in beating back the enemy, who lost heavily. A large number of prisoners fell into our hands, and also a battery of six guns. Later in the day, Lee made an attempt to flank Gen. Meade by way of Chantilly, but was unsuccessful in consequence of a rapid counter move. A small party of rebels made a dash upon one of our supply trains, and, after destroying two of the wagons, were driveu off by the teamsters, who rallied to defend the property. Yesterday there was no fighting of importance. Gen. Sickles is announced to have gone to the front to take command of his old corps in case of a general engagement.

Our special correspondent telegraphs from Stevenson, Ala., that Wheeler's cavalry, which have been operating in the rear of Gen. Rosecrans, have at last recrossed the Tennessee River, closely pursued by our forces. Refugees coming into our lines report that Gen. Bragg has exhausted the country of supplies, and consequently a movement of some kind on his part is necessary. A correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial gives a rumor that Bragg's and Longstreet's troops have been fighting among themselves; and that on the 5th inst. a battle occurred in which six hundred were killed and wounded.

Shelby's raiders in Central Missouri have at last been dispersed. Gen. Brown brought the main body of these rebels to a decisive engagement on Tuesday, and after obstinate fighting for five hours, they were completely routed, with a loss of all their artillery and baggage, and a number of small arms and prisoners. Shelby's loss in killed was also very large. Our cavalry yesterday were in hot pursuit of the straggling forces, several squads of whom had crossed the Pacific Railroad on their way South.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Board of Aldermen failed of a quorum at their meeting yesterday, and adjourned to Monday. Afterward a call was signed for a special meeting at 1 o'clock P. M. to-day.

The Board of Councilmen concurred to overrule the Mayor's veto on the resolution to sell a ferry franchise, for a term of ten years, from the basin between Oliver-street and James-slip, East River, to Bridge and South Sixth streets, Brooklyn, E. D., and to permit Wm. Marrin, John Y. Bell and others, to establish such a ferry at their own cost, and run the same till the franchise therefor shall be sold to the highest bidder. An offer was received from Mr. M. Bell, which was referred to the Finance Committee, to remove, for a period of ten years, all night-soil and contents of cesspools without charge to the Corporation, looking only to private parties for compensation, and to buy all the boats and right and title of the present contractor in his contract. Mr. Bell says his offer, if accepted, will save the City $130,000. The Board adjourned to Monday.

Our correspondence from Aspinwall and Panama, received yesterday, by the steamer Ocean Queen, informs us that Gen. Mosquera, Provisional President of the United States of Colombia, had declared that Republic to be in a state of war, and ordered a levy of 8,000 troops. Various surmises are made as to against what country the war will be waged, but the most generally accepted is that the proclamation means Ecuador. The war between Guatemala and Salvador seems to be drawing to a close. Presidents Carrera and Barrios had had an interview for the purpose of stipulating conditions of peace, but no satisfactory result was obtained. Carrera afterward issued a decree calling upon Barrios to surrender within forty-eight hours, and his superior force gives him the power to compel obedience, whenever he chooses to enforce it. From South America the news is of little importance.

Judge Sprague, of Boston, has decided a point which is vastly interesting to the navy. Three vessels, the Santiago de Cuba, Tioga and Octorara, engaged in the chase of the steamer Victory, which ran the blockade of Wilmington, N. C. The first vessel only was fast enough to make the capture, and the others, finding they lacked the necessary speed, gave up the chase and busied themselves in securing the cotton bales which the fugitive had thrown overboard. When the Santiago finally overhauled the Victory her colleagues were out of sight. Under these circumstances the Santiago de Cuba was decided to be the sole captor of the steamer, and the Tioga and Octorara were allowed to share as sole captors of the cotton picked up. The gross proceeds of the prize were as follows: Vessel, $65,000; cargo found on board, $241,421 37; cotton taken by the Octorara, $14,037 90; by the Tioga, $8,542 26. Total gross proceeds, $392,001 53.

A letter from Baltimore states that the negroes are volunteering with a perfect rush. They come into Baltimore from the counties by fifties and hundreds. Edward Lloyd, of Talbot County, a Secessionist, has furnished the Government, against his will, with some eighty of his slaves.

Lieut.-Col. Lloyd D. Waddell, of the Eleventh Regiment Illinois Volunteers, who served with distinction at Fort Donelson, Shiloh and Vicksburgh, and was for a long time Chief of Staff for Maj.-Gen. McPherson, has been officially announced as Provost-Marshal of the Post of Vicksburgh.

It is stated that a new discovery of gold has been made on a branch of the McKenzie's fork of the Willamette River, Oregon.

In the Surrogate's Court, yesterday, the matter of the will of the late E. P. Christy was again taken up and further surgical evidence offered as to the effect of the injuries of deceased, and of which he died, upon his mental capacities. Portions of his skull and backbone, (his body having been exhumed,) were produced in Court for this purpose.

In the Court of Sessions yesterday, before Recorder Hoffman, Pasquale Padramminico pleaded guilty to forgery in the fourth degree, and was remanded for sentence. William Jenkins and Henry Price pleaded guilty to an attempt at burglary in the third degree, and were remanded. Johanna Shannon pleaded guilty to an attempt at grand larceny and was remanded.

The Gold market was excited yesterday by various rumors adverse to the Army of the Potomac. The last price was 156 ₱ cent. Exchange on London, 171¼@172¼ ₱ cent. The subscriptions to the Popular Loan day before yesterday, in all quarters, reached two and a half millions. Yesterday, in this City, $1,165,000. The old loans of 1881 went up to 109@109¼ ₱ cent. The Railway share market irregular and closing dull.

An active business was reported in the principal kinds of Breadstuffs yesterday. Flour and Corn were firmer, while Wheat and Oats were decidedly cheaper. Provisions were freely offered and purchased at irregular quotations. Cotton was less active, and somewhat unsettled. Groceries were quiet. Whisky was dull and heavy. A good demand existed for Hay, Hops, Hides, Leather, Oils and Tobacco. Tallow was unusually brisk. Heavier freight engagements were effected.

True Loyalty, and Spurious—The Real Test.

It is a question not of positions, but of sides. Is the man on the side of the Government, or is he not? That is the point. To say that he occupies this position or that position, that he is a War Democrat or a Conservative Republican, or a Radical Republican—that he is a "let-them-go" peace man, or an "olive-branch" compromise man, or a war man, with "ifs and buts"—is to say nothing of practical consequence. There never yet was a cause in which all who engaged in it were exactly of the same mind. In respect to minor matters there is always a wide difference of opinion. The rebels themselves are agreed about nothing, save the one purpose, not to come back into the Union. The very devils in the pit, according to Milton, had their fierce debates whether to proceed by open war or by covert guile, and even whether not to proceed at all, but simply lie and bear it. The accord comes from agreement of spirit, not judgment—the spirit which fixes what side shall be taken, not the judgment, which determines the particular position occupied on that side.

No men recognise this more completely than the Copperheads themselves. Though they differ very much in respect to the positive line of policy to be adopted against the Government, they yet find no difficulty in keeping up their Anti-Government combination. Let who may be the candidate—whether Seymour of Connecticut, who denies the right of coercion; or Vllandigham of Ohio, who admits the right, but denies the expediency; or Woodward of Pennsylvania, who admits both the right and the expediency, but opposes the means; or Tuttle of Iowa, who quarrels neither with the right nor the expediency, nor the means, but with the manner—whether it be Seymour of New-York, who would work through mob violence; or Parker of New-Jersey, who would work through legislative enactment; or Bradbury of Maine, who would work through State Executive countermand upon the soldiers; or Redfield, of Vermont, who would simply lie low and not work at all—whoever, or whatever the candidate, we say, he is sure of the solid Copperhead vote. We have yet to hear of a single case of bolting anywhere, by any section of the party. There is a universal feeling among them that these minor differences are of no practical account in the presence of the one grand object of disabling the Administration at Washington. It is the common hostility to the war authorities of the land that unites them. We say the war authorities. President Lincoln is the constitutional Commander-in-Chief of the army and navy, and has been sworn to "preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States." It is opposition to him and his subordinates in the performance of that duty that arrays these Copperheads together, and, at all times, secures their concentrated action. Their common spirit of faction is the one thing dominant.

All pretexts that there is an essential difference between antagonism to the President and opposition to the Government are a mockery. It is not more certain that the Government is in danger from the rebellion, and that the President, as its executive head, is its appointed defender, than that breaking down the President is breaking down the Government. The soldier may as well turn against his commander in the day of battle, and claim that he is still true to the flag. The President, of course, like every other man, may make his mistakes, and these mistakes may be criticised—nay, ought to be criticised, for just criticism would only enlighten and strengthen him. Such criticism may be prompted by the most loyal spirit. But regular, organized, systematic, indiscriminate antagonism, such as these Copperheads have engaged in, can come from no such spirit. It is calculated not to help, but to hinder; not to strengthen, but to weaken; not to promote the triumph of the National arms, but to impart new encouragement to the rebels. It is certain that if this antagonism to the President should once become the fixed Northern policy, he would be practically disabled from carrying on the war. With whatever fidelity he might labor against the rebellion, it ever would be all futile without the popular support. The people must work with him, or he works in vain. The party, therefore, which makes opposition its regular business, in a crisis like this, is essentially a disloyal party.

Of course we don't mean to say that all the men who vote against the Administration are consciously aiming to break down the Government. Unquestionably there are great numbers who go for the Copperhead candidates without a thought of damaging the country. They simply follow old party leaders, or are influenced by old party names and watchwords, or are misled, perhaps, by the artful sophistries and passionate appeals of demagogues. But the fact that there are so many well-meaning men of this class in the opposition, don't in the least affect the factious character, or the factious effect, of the opposition—not a whit more than the fact that there are great numbers of well-meaning men among the rebels affects the character and effect of the rebellion. It is not the character of the followers, but the character of the cause itself and of those who manage it, that makes it a public blessing or curse.

It is one of the most cheering prospects of the times that the people are coming so generally to an understanding of the demands of true loyalty. The contrast between the elections this year and last year is due mainly to the progress made in this regard. The very same Copperhead arguments and appeals which were so effectual then, accomplish comparatively nothing now. All the objections which are brought out against the Administration are accounted as but dust in the balance against the vital necessities of upholding the Government through its constituted authorities. The great majority of the people have learned what unconditional loyalty is, and what its requirements are; and in passing upon candidates they no more think of making a distinction between Copperheads of this stripe and that stripe, than they do between this and that sort of tories in the Revolution, or this and that class of Federalists in the last war with England. They who are not for sustaining the authorities of the Government in this emergency, they put down as unfaithful to the Government; and between such they neither look for nor care for any difference. They place the same brand upon the whole herd.

Affairs in Virginia.—We cannot yet foresee either the nature and magnitude of Gen. Lee's advance or what is likely to come of it. The fighting on Wednesday, though only a single corps of the rebels was engaged against two corps of our army, was very brisk, and seems to have resulted in nothing but the further contraction of our army lines. The fact, however, that Lee has made a second attempt to flank our army, this time by way of Chantilly, and endeavored to get into our rear by way of Fairfax Court-house, furnishes additional proof that he considers himself strong enough to cope with the Army of the Potomac.

Delusions and Fallacies of the Rebel Leaders.

The full height, breadth and depth of the delusions under which the South commenced this war will probably only be fully revealed after most of the actors in it have been gathered to their fathers. But we know enough of it already to be greatly puzzled by the extraordinary want of foresight and judgment displayed by the leaders in their calculation of the course likely to be pursued by Europe and the North. Their knowledge of the capacity and resources of their own people has been proved by events to have been exceedingly accurate and profound, but their ignorance of every other people seems to have been, for men of as much ability and shrewdness as they have undoubtedly shown themselves to possess, and for men who have, to an extent unknown amongst us, made politics and political history a life-long study, curious in the last degree. Their principal errors, too, are of a kind that we should expect from what are commonly called "practical men"—men of little education, to whom self-interest in its lowest sense is the key to all political problems, and by no means from persons who have studied politics in books. The notion, for instance, that the North, being a commercial community, devoted to the pursuit of gain, was for that reason sure not to fight, is rather the conclusion of a backwoodsman than of a student. The lesson of history is that commercial communities are amongst the most pugnacious and ambitious, and most obstinate of belligerents:—witness Carthage, Venice, Genoa, Holland and England.

Their character for able statesmanship has been equally damaged by the utter failure of their calculations regarding France and England. The North there was some excuse for their not understanding, inasmuch as they were blinded by hate and rivalry, and led astray by the false prophecies of Northern men like Franklin Pierce and Gov. Seymour, who committed the not unnatural error of judging their countrymen by themselves. But the Southern leaders must have studied France and England carefully for years before this outbreak, with the view of ascertaining the policy they would most probably pursue when it came. The conclusion they arrived at was that the two Powers would immediately interfere on behalf of the South; not after the South had given good evidence of its valor or skill, but before a shot was well fired. They actually were so possessed with this idea that their Commissioners applied for recognition in England immediately after the first battle of Bull Run. Now, this inference also was not that of men who work out political problems in the Cabinet, and balance probabilities and investigate springs of action on paper, slowly and laboriously. It was just the sort of hasty and passionate reasoning, if reasoning it can be called, that one meets with at enthusiastic mass meetings, such as Tammany and Mozart Halls turn out by the yard on the night of "a grand rally." Men of real thought, and in the habit of reflecting on remote consequences, would hardly have expected the Ministers of countries like France and England, who have had centuries of vast and varied experience in peace and war, to fling themselves, in the first three months, into a convulsion which they recognized at the very outset as the most tremendous one of modern times, whatever their sympathies might be. In the presence of such a catastrophe, it would be the natural impulse of every elderly educated man, such as Louis Napoleon or Lord Russell, to wait and see what was going to happen, before taking sides by overt acts; and one would have expected that men as shrewd and crafty as Jefferson Davis and his associates would have foreseen this, by the hastiest appeal to "the depths of their own consciousness." But they did not, and the letters of their Commissioners to Earl Russell, in 1861, will remain on record as perhaps the most foolish and boyish compositions in the whole archives of diplomacy.

Their financial calculations have also turned out a ruinous failure, though we believe that they never made much pretension to financial skill and their breakdown in this department is therefore not so surprising. It is, however, characteristic as well as amusing, that they should now be devising means of making England pay the expenses of the war, in the same breath in which they abuse her for not having fought for them. How to shift the whole burden, in blood, as well as in money, of a struggle which they themselves begun, on to some one else's shoulders, has from the outset been the absorbing thought of "the leading minds" of the South. Having failed to get the use of English troops and ships, they propose to make the rest of the world, but especially England, pay their public debts. Says Mr. Wm. Gregg, in a long letter to Memminger upon the financial situation: "I have no fears of the ultimate payment of our national debt, if it be anywhere below two thousand millions. We will be able to make the world pay it by an export duty on Cotton alone. American Cotton is the world's necessity. Five cents per pound export duty will not close the markets of other nations against it, or detract from its value here."

In short, apart from their conduct of the military operations, the only thing in which the Southern leaders have displayed much skill and judgment or foresight, is in their manipulation of foreign opinion, and into this they have thrown that social tact and versatility which no one ever denied them. They have displayed, perhaps, all the more energy in this part of the work from the great importance which they have always attached to foreign recognition. And in addition to this, the nature of Southern life causes the upper classes to rely more on social influences and less on speechifying and writing than we do. We select a man to represent us in Paris or London, as if his business were to "stump a State" in a Presidential canvass, and without much regard to his social talent; although, as is well known, there is far more to be accomplished in European diplomacy, through social intercourse, than in any other way.

Local Nominations.—The Union men in the City are rapidly completing their list of nominations for the State Legislature and for county offices. In most instances all merely personal and party considerations yield readily to the paramount purpose of uniting all loyal votes in support of the Government. In one or two cases, we regret to see independent nominations made and accepted without due deference to the general sentiment and wish of those who have a right to be consulted. We trust that all who have the welfare of the country at heart will make all reasonable sacrifices of personal feeling to insure success.

Floundrings of the Rebel Financiers.—The condition of the Confederate finances and Confederate currency is causing the rebels an immense amount of trouble. Everything else in the South is at the control of the rebel leaders but this. Jeff. Davis writes about it, Memminger ponders over it, Wigfall spouts about it, the Confederate Congress enacts laws about it, and so does the Legislature of Virginia, while all the newspapers are in a condition of "confusion worse confounded" about it; but all of them together cannot force up or keep up the value of a Confederate dollar, or alter the relative price of provisions and their paper money. Jeff. Davis has a charming plan to "form societies of citizens to unite in an effort to restore and maintain the par value of the currency with gold, and to engage to sell and buy only at reduced prices." Wigfall's plan or remedy will, he says, certainly reach the evil, if acted on. It is that "every man at once resolve to invest every surplus dollar in Government bonds, and every dollar that is so invested will to that extent contract the currency, and reduce prices." The plan of the Confederate Congress is to fix absolutely the prices of things, and seize supplies by impressment, while the Virginia Legislature fixes the prices of the necessary staples in ordinary traffic. But all these schemes, and all this legislation, do not better matters. They go on from bad to worse, till now, says Wigfall, "the $11 a month which the soldier receives is scarcely worth $1, and he cannot be relieved by an increase of pay, for it would but still further inflate the currency and increase prices, and if his pay were double, the $22 would probably buy less than the $11 which he now receives." This is surely a hopeless state of affairs; but it has another effect which Wigfall expatiates upon. "The higher the prices," he says, "the larger the issues, and the larger the issues the higher the prices. The cost of the war the first year was one or two hundred millions of dollars, three or four hundred millions the next, and it will be eight or ten the third, if prices are not reduced."

Since all the monetary projects of the rebels have thus failed, till now they flounder in a perfect financial chaos—since the schemes of such profound financiers as Jeff. Davis, Wigfall and Memminger have all proved abortions, it would be absurd in us to make a suggestion to the Confederate authorities; but certainly the most feasible project we have yet seen put forth, is that lately recommended by a nameless, but "profound statesman of South Carolina," that all money be abolished in the Confederacy, and that the rebel Government seize all provisions, retain what it needs for the army, and distribute the remainder equally among the population. That would get Jeff. Davis out of all his financial troubles, though we do not guarantee that it would not get him into worse troubles.

Union Senators.

Hon. Dan. H. Cole, of Albion, has been nominated for Senator in the Genesee, Niagara and Orleans District. He is a man of ability, of excellent character, and of great personal popularity. He has filled many important local offices, being elected always by large majorities. He was Member of Assembly in 1855.

George H. Andrews, the Union candidate for Senator in the Otsego District, was formerly connected with the Courier and Inquirer in this City, and was in its financial management the mainstay of that establishment for some years before its discontinuance. He has excellent abilities, is a fine speaker, and will make a prudent, judicious and efficient Senator. No better nomination could have been made.

William Nicoll, of Suffolk, the Union candidate in the First District, has always been a Democrat, but is heartily and earnestly in favor of sustaining the Government in the prosecution of the war. He is highly respected, and will command a large vote.

Union Meeting at Cooper Institute.

The Union men hold a meeting, one of the regular weekly series, this evening at Cooper Institute. Senator Wilson of Massachusetts, Hon. D. S. Dickinson of Albany, and some local speakers, are expected to make addresses. Only a fortnight remains for the State canvass after this week, and although the splendid Union triumphs in Pennsylvania and the West render the result of the contest in this State scarcely doubtful, yet the friends of the Government should spare no effort to secure an overwhelming majority in favor of the Union and the War.

THE FINANCIAL SYSTEM OF THE UNITED STATES—GOLD AND CREDIT.

The Basis of Public Credit—The Utility and Value of Government Bonds—The Limitation of National Credit—Money in the United States Illimitable.

The Bercans, Sunday, Sept. 20, 1863.

I have read something upon various difficult subjects; but upon nothing have I ever seen so much mystery and misapprehension as upon that of credit and money. People will confound the most opposite things, such as money and capital, credit and property, public and private credit, paper and specie, and for want of two or three simple principles, entangle all the subjects of finance. In the United States the peculiarity of our condition confounds both ourselves and the economists of Europe. Europe laughed at the idea of our carrying on an enormous war without borrowing money of them. Everybody remembers the awful predictions of the London Times—that we were going on rapidly to financial ruin and bankruptcy. The rebels said the same, and added bread riots and other terrible things to the sad picture. What a contrast with that picture is the result! I undertake to say that the financial prosperity of the United States was never so great as it is this very day. Never was its business more active; the basis of its credit greater; or the value of property higher. I shall not stop to prove this; but it is susceptible of the most exact proof. I shall here only, by way of introduction to a fuller discussion of our financial and commercial condition, state some of the elementary facts. In the first place, money (no matter of what composed) is a mere machine to do a certain piece of work. It stands on the same footing as a spinning wheel or a cotton gin. Its business is to make an exchange, a transmutation of property. It has no other business. There are two other elements involved in its use; its cheapness and its convenience. As between paper and gold, paper is both cheaper and more convenient. Hence it is that all modern communities prefer paper to coin, and the commercial tendency of the age is to substitute paper, as far as possible, for the precious metals. Why should a man carry a hundred dollars in his pocket (of gold capital) to make a certain exchange, when he can do it for five cents? The common sense of mankind prefers paper—when there is no danger of loss. How completely money is a mere machine of exchange may be illustrated, by the journey of Dr. Barth. He leaves England, for example, with a bill of exchange. He finds that on the coast of Africa they will take nothing but silver dollars. At Tripoli he converts his paper into silver dollars. He leaves Tripoli with a bag of silver, and goes into the interior of Africa. But, at a certain point in the interior, silver comes to be a medium of exchange, and changes his dollars into strings of shells, called cowries. From that point the little shells paid for everything, just as much as if they had been English Gold. They had no intrinsic value, but they were the currency of the country, and, at a certain point, the shells and the silver had an exchangeable value. Now, in this transaction, the paper was more convenient than the silver, and the silver more convenient than the shells. And (mark!) the most civilized nation used the paper. Now, the only difficulty about the paper is, that if it has no exchangeable value for property, it may be a loss on the holder's hands. This is the only thing that depreciates paper money. We have an example in the difference between the notes of the rebel Confederacy and the United States Government. The United States notes are worth ten times the rebel notes. Why? There are two reasons: First, because everybody believes the United States both can and will pay their notes; and, secondly, because the United States notes are convertible into bonds, whose interest is payable in gold, which, by the well-known laws of finance, is equivalent to paying the bonds themselves in gold. Nobody believes the rebel notes will be paid; and they are not convertible into any kind of value; hence they must continually depreciate. Mr. Robert Toombs says this is in consequence of the quantity. This is a mistake. He may make the quantity greater or less, and he cannot raise the value of a note, which the holder knows, if left in his hands, is a dead loss. These being the principles by which money is governed, the present credit of the Government is obvious. It rests, first, on the ability of the Government to pay its notes; and secondly, in the fact that it does pay them by paying the interest of the bonds in gold. The paper currency is convertible into bonds, (which are only larger notes,) and the bonds bear interest in gold. Thus, all the paper currency of the United States is now actually specie paid, to the extent in which the capital of the country can be absorbed in bonds. What is the limit of that absorption? That undoubtedly is a vital question, and I shall consider it at more length hereafter. At present I will mention only two or three facts, which will serve as a generalization of that subject. In the first place, the property of the nation is answerable for the debts of the nation, if the people be an honest people, and heretofore we have been the most honest nation in the world. The property of the loyal States is worth, intrinsically, about fourteen thousand millions of dollars. It can undoubtedly have a public debt of thirty per cent., or even four thousand millions. In the State of Ohio, the Commissioner of Statistics has shown, by indisputable facts, that the whole debt—State, corporate and private—does not exceed twenty-five per cent. of the property. This may be taken as a unit for the country, and shows that the vast property of this nation is capable of bearing an immense debt, in addition to the present liabilities. But, aside from all this, these National Bonds are themselves property, and property of the most convenient kind. It is simply a means of making much of the fixed property convertible and exchangeable.

Now, is this convertibility a loss? I should like to see the man who will prove that the issuing of United States Bonds is a loss to the nation. It is simply making it really convertible, and that is a process which the country has long needed, and is one source of its present prosperity. When a nation has arrived at thirty millions of people, and commands the resources of a continent; and has five millions of tons in shipping—exceeding that of any other nation on earth—it needs a much larger proportion of convertible, transferable property, than we have heretofore had. The war has brought this about, and is so far a benefit. There are so many interesting, and as yet entirely undiscussed points in our commercial and financial condition, that I must leave them for another time. But I will here say, that one of the greatest errors in the minds of most men in discussing political and financial questions, is in failing to recognize and consider the changed condition of our country and times. As the Spaniards continue to use rope harnesses, so there are many, especially educated men, who think that all things remain as they were in the time of the fathers. This is not so. No country was ever placed in the condition of ours. I will mention two facts which put an end to all precedents in regard to American finance. In the first place, labor, which is the source of wealth, is worth much more in our country, under free institutions, than it ever was in any country upon earth. In the next place, gold (which the old economists insist upon it, is the ultimate value,) is in our country, so far as we know, absolutely illimitable. It stands on the same footing as potatoes and corn. It is simply merchandise. Where then is our limit in regard to credit and money, when we have the whole world tributary to us?

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

OUR SPECIAL WASHINGTON DISPATCHES

Washington, Thursday, Oct. 15.

THE WASHINGTON DEFENCES.

Gen. Augur, in pursuance of an order issued this morning by the President, assumed command of the Department of Washington. All orders now in force in the Department are continued. There is great activity in the Engineer Corps, strengthening the defences of Washington by the erection of new rifle-pits and batteries. One thousand men, from the convalescent camp, this morning were detailed to work on the fortifications.

THE TAX ON CIGARETTES.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that cigarettes are liable to a tax of three per cent. ad valorem as a manufacture, not otherwise provided for.

TREATY WITH INDIANS.

Commissioner Dole to-day received a dispatch from Gov. Ramsay, dated Red Lake Crossing, Kansas, stating that he had succeeded in forming a treaty with the Pembina and Red Lake Indians.

PRISONERS EXCHANGED.

About three hundred paroled Union prisoners at at Annapolis have been declared exchanged, and will be sent to their respective regiments.

THE HOSPITALS.

Eight thousand nominal sick occupy the Washington Hospitals. Eight per cent of these turn out on inspection to be fit for duty in the field. Of course they march. The per centage of disability from rupture is astonishing, more astonishing than from disease of the heart, induced by the irregular or violent action inseparable from military excitements. Snugly pensioned upon the Government have been found in these hospitals one hundred aged and worn-out soldiers, who enlisted for the bounty, and have been crafty in protracting their comfortable life in their medical boarding-houses.

A SURGEON DISMISSED.

By direction of the President Surgeon J. C. Fisher, United States Volunteers, has been dismissed the service for persistent failure in making to the Surgeon-General's office monthly reports of station and duties, as required by circular from that office.

THE SURVEY OF COLORADO TERRITORY.

A map of public surveys in Colorado Territory, lately received at the General Land Office, shows that surveys have been completed within a radius of seventy-five miles of Colorado City and fifty miles of Denver City.

PROPOSALS INVITED.

Gen. Rucker, Chief Quartermaster Depot of Washington, invites sealed proposals until the 20th of October, for furnishing the Government with two thousand mules, to conform to the following specifications:

All to be fourteen hands and over in height, to be in good flesh, sound, serviceable and suitable for draught purposes, and to be over three and under nine years of age. Proposals to be for 500 and upward. Bids from disloyal parties will not be received.

The Ordnance Office invites sealed proposals, until the 25th of October, for 100,000 sets of infantry accoutrements, calibre 1.58, to be delivered in the following quantities at the undernamed arsenals:

30,000 sets at the New-York Arsenal, Governor's Island.
20,000 sets at the Frankfort Arsenal, Bridesburgh, Penn.
20,000 sets at the Allegheny Arsenal, Pittsburgh, Penn.
20,000 sets at the St. Louis Arsenal, St. Louis, Mo.
10,000 sets at the U. S. Armory, Springfield, Mass.

DISPATCHES TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, Thursday, Oct. 15.

THE OBSTRUCTION OF CHARLESTON HARBOR.

From what can be ascertained of the real state of affairs at Charleston, the rebels have effectually closed the channel to the city to our fleet, reserving a passage, however, to their own craft, after the manner of a canal, with a safety lock against the enemy. The obstructions may be of such a nature as not to be removed by any appliances of our own, or of too formidable a nature to justify a hazardous attempt by our iron-clads to penetrate farther into the harbor and within range of the rebel guns. Under these circumstances, the best engineering and strategic skill becomes necessary on the part of the respective commanders of the land and water forces to make a thoroughly successful demonstration upon Charleston. Such a result is not considered doubtful, but time is necessarily required for the consummation of their plans.

FOR THE GULF BLOCKADING SQUADRON.

The supply ship Circassian will leave Boston for the Gulf on Saturday, the 24th.

CONTRACT FOR RAISING SUNKEN VESSELS.

A year and a half ago the Navy Department made a contract for raising the sunken vessels, about twenty in number, in Hampton Roads, but owing to the fact that the contractor has shown himself incompetent to the work, the Navy Department will soon again advertise for proposals for the performance of that service, thus affording to men of genius and enterprise a fine opportunity of investment of capital and labor.

SEWARD.

[For the New-York Times.]

Well, be it so! The not uncommon fate
Of greatness overtakes thee in thy prime:
He who is mighty will have foes who hate;
Thou hast false friends, who only consummate
Their own destruction in attempting thine.
O, peerless Champion of the Cause so Just,
When some, o'er zealous now, were cold or mute,
Thou with sublimest courage took the Trust
And priceless venture, conscious that thou must
Bear scorn of those who would thy cause dispute.
Keep heart! the Great Hereafter will refute
Each slander born of envy or of hate,
And thus thy final labors will compute;
"He Freedom Saved, by saving First the State!"

AGAIN NEW TESTIMONY.

READ.

HARLEM, July 30, 1863.

I have been deaf for over TWENTY-FIVE YEARS, and Dr. VON EISENBERG operated on both of my ears without the slightest pain—a thing that I could not believe could be done. I now hear well, and feel as I never felt for the last twenty years. The dexterity and skill with which the operation was performed evince the highest practical ability. I hear perfectly. It is now over a month since the operation, and I continue to feel as well as ever.

CATARRH CURED.

NEW-YORK, Aug. 23, 1863.

I have been suffering for the last three years from a severe Catarrh, with a continual dullness in my head, a tightness across my chest, a weight over my eyes, which were weak, watery and very painful. My nostrils were continually obstructed with a pouring of fluid. I have had frequent sneezing, hoarseness of my voice, generally attended with spitting, often with a fullness of my throat, together with a soreness and a dropping. Dr. VON EISENBERG has cured me of all these disagreeable sufferings. I now feel a new life. The treatment of Dr. VON EISENBERG is as skillful as it is successful; it is impossible to overrate the benefit I have received at his hands. I heartily recommend any one suffering like myself to place themselves under Dr. VON EISENBERG'S care, with a certainty of being speedily cured. I give this with gratitude and pleasure. I cannot forbear again saying that my voice, which was hoarse and thick when I applied to Dr. VON EISENBERG, is now clear and good; indeed, I feel abundantly satisfied.

JAMES LITTLE,
No. 245 7th-st., New-York.

NEW-YORK, Sept. 8.

I have been suffering for years past from a severe Catarrh, with a great heaviness over my eyes, with a severe depression, great uneasiness, and pain in my head, great difficulty in breathing, and a continual accumulation in my nostrils, which gave me restless nights for several years. I have consulted several physicians, who pronounced me to be consumptive. What I suffered for so long a time is indescribable. My system was entirely disarranged and greatly debilitated. I not only felt weak, but I had a cloud continually before my eyes, and my ears were so affected that I was threatened with a total loss of hearing. I must say, I think, I was guided by Providence to come to Dr Von Eisenberg, who not only cured me of my Catarrh by removing an astonishing quantity of disagreeable matter from my head, but he restored me to perfect health, a blessing I have not enjoyed for many years. Now I enjoy a good night's rest, and pursue my business with comfort. I must acknowledge that Dr. Von Eisenberg's mild and scientific treatment for Catarrh deserves the highest commendation, as the principle which directs his system of curing Catarrh is such as to render success certain.

JAMES FURLONG, No. 556 2d-av.

No. 134 ALLEN-ST., NEW-YORK, Feb. 9, 1863.

I have been completely deaf in one ear, and partially so in the other, for above seventeen years, with a disagreeable discharge from both ears, combined with continual rumbling noise in the head, for which I have been treated by a most eminent practitioner in the City without the slightest relief.

I consulted Dr. Von Eisenberg, but I must candidly say that I had no faith in his success when I did so. It is, therefore, due to Dr. Von Eisenberg to acknowledge that I am entirely cured; also, that he displayed that skill and knowledge which have procured for him such an unrivaled reputation. As I have had an opportunity of comparing his mode of treatment with that of others, I can truly state that it is not only superior, but the principles which direct his mode of restoring the hearing are, in my opinion, certain.

JOHN TAYLOR.

NEW-YORK, July 19, 1862.

This certifies that my mother has been for some time afflicted with partial deafness, suffering from pain, and rumbling noises in the head, together with other indications of a total loss of hearing. Dr. Von Eisenberg removed from her ears a great quantity of matter, together with coagulated blood, relieving her instantaneously, and all without pain. It is with grateful thanks that I give this testimony to his skill.

CARROLL J. POST, No. 28 South-st.

SIGHT RESTORED.

JUNE 25, 1863.

My daughter brought me to Dr. VON EISENBERG almost completely blind in both eyes. I could not bear the pain nor the light. I am completely cured by Dr. VON EISENBERG, and called now to express my gratitude to the Doctor for his skill and unremitting attention, by which I recovered one of the most precious senses to me after being deprived of it for four years. It is only due to Dr. VON EISENBERG to state that I have tried several physicians in vain. I shall be happy to bear personal testimony to Dr. VON EISENBERG'S unrivaled success to any lady or gentleman who will call on me.

HUGH GILLON,

CHRONIC CATARRH CURED.
READ.

NEW-YORK, March 29, 1863.

"This is to certify, that I have suffered from very severe CHRONIC CATARRH, with a dull heaviness in the head. I felt my nose completely stopped up accompanied by continual soreness of the throat, the chills stealing over me with occasional hot flushes, a great tightness of the chest and pain, so much so, that every one thought it was consumption. Having heard of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I consulted him with but little hope of a cure. I am now happy to be enabled to add my testimonial to the great number already in the Doctor's possession, as to his scientific and successful mode of treatment, as he has shown in my case that skill and knowledge which have procured for him so great a reputation. I am so entirely restored to perfect health that I do most sincerely recommend all sufferers from CHRONIC CATARRH and SORE THROAT to apply at once to Dr. Von Eisenberg with a certainty of being cured."

FREDERICK WEBER, No. 589 4th-st.

DR. VON EISENBERG'S OFFICE
NO. 816 BROADWAY, NEW-YORK.

From the army hospital—the bloody battle field—the mansion of the rich and humble abode of the poor—from the office and the sacred desk—from the mountain top, distant valleys and far-off islands of the ocean—from every nook and corner of the civilized world—is pouring in the evidence of the astonishing effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. Thousands upon thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office.

REEDSBURY, Wis., Sept. 16, 1863.

* * * * I have been in the army hospitals fourteen months—speechless and nearly dead. At Alton, Ill., they gave me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. * * * Three bottles restored my speech and cured me. * * *

C. H. FLAUTE.

SOUTH WARSAW, Ohio, July 28, 1863.

* * * One young man, who had been sick and not out of the house for two years with Scrofula and Erysipelas, after paying the doctors over $150 without benefit, has been cured by ten bottles of your Bitters. * * *

EDWARD WOUNALL.

The following is from the Manager of the Union Home School for the Children of Volunteers:

HAVEMEYER MANSION, 57TH-ST., NEW-YORK, Aug. 2, 1863.

DR. DRAKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters have been given to some of our little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl, in particular, with pains in the head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored. We commenced with but a teaspoonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite increased; strength and health followed. * * *

Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE.

* * * I owe much to you, for I verily believe the Plantation Bitters have saved my life.

Rev. W. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, N. Y.

* * * Thou wilt send me two bottles more of thy Plantation Bitters. My wife has been greatly benefited by their use. Thy friend,

ASA CURRIN, Philadelphia, Penn.

* * * I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and had to abandon preaching. * * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me.

Rev. J. S. CATHORN, Rochester, N. Y.

* * * Send us twenty-four dozen more of your Plantation Bitters, the popularity of which are daily increasing with the guests of our house.

SYKES, CHADWICK & CO.,
Proprietors of Willard's Hotel, Washington, D. C.

* * * I have given the Plantation Bitters to hundreds of our disabled soldiers with the most astonishing effect.

G. W. D. ANDREWS,
Superintendent Soldiers' Home, Cincinnati, Ohio.

* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of liver complaint, of which I was laid up prostrate and had to abandon my business.

H. B. KINGSLEY, Cleveland, Ohio.

* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of a derangement of the kidneys and urinary organs that has distressed me for years. It acts like a charm.

C. C. MOORE,
Agent for Colgate & Co., No. 254 Broadway.
&c., &c., &c., &c., &c. &c.

The Plantation Bitters make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs, &c., all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

S. T.—1860.—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try them.

They are recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure and harmless.

NOTICE.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon, is a swindler and imposter. We only put it up in our log-cabin bottles. Beware of bottles refilled with imitation deleterious stuff, for which several persons are already in prison. See that every bottle has our United States Stamp over the cork, and signature on steel plate side labels.

Sold by respectable dealers throughout the habitable globe.

THE MANAGERS OF THE COLORED ORPHAN ASYLUM, having taken the house formerly occupied by H. W. Field, Carmansville, expect to remove the children in the course of the present week.

They need hardly revert to the destruction of their valuable and commodious buildings, well stored with furniture, bedding, clothing, &c., all of which were wholly consumed, or distributed among the mob.

They rejoice to inform the public that not one of the children were lost or injured, but were safely conducted by faithful officers of the Institution to the 35th-st. Station-house, who remained with them three days and three nights in that densely crowded place.

When removed to Blackwell's Island, which was thronged with colored refugees from the City, they were kindly received, and have been cared for and protected to the present time, for which the Managers would gratefully acknowledge their obligations both to the Commissioners of Charity and Alms, and their Warden, N. P. Anderson.

They would also express their heartfelt thanks to John Decker, Chief of the Fire Department, who several times, at the risk of his life, extinguished the flames in different parts of the building after they were kindled.

Thanks are also due to Capt. Walling and his company, of the 35th-st. Station-house, for kind protection afforded at the time of the mob, and to many others not named.

Donations in money, bedding or clothing, furniture, dry goods, groceries, &c., &c., will be most gratefully received at the present time.

The Superintendent, William E. Davis, Carmansville, will be down with a wagon daily during the ensuing week, and will call on such persons as are disposed to respond to this appeal, and will address him on the subject. Or packages may be sent to J. D. Smith, 374 4th-av.

OFFICE OF THE CINCINNATI, HAMILTON & DAYTON RAILROAD COMPANY, CINCINNATI, Oct 7, 1863.

TO THE STOCKHOLDERS.—THE BOARD of Directors (sanctioned by a vote of Stockholders at a meeting held this day) approved a contract with the Atlantic and Great Western Railway Company, by which this Company agrees to lay down a track of the six feet guage between Cincinnati and Dayton, for the business of the A. & G. W. Railway. This improvement is estimated to cost $750,000.

The Board of Directors, sanctioned by the Stockholders, have determined to issue the $344,200 of additional stock, thus completing the amount authorized by the Charter of $2,500,000. They are also authorized to dispose of the remaining three hundred of the twelve hundred and fifty $1,000 seven per cent. bonds provided for under the second mortgage, which bonds were executed Oct. 15, 1853, but not disposed of heretofore. These two amounts, together with a portion of the surplus earnings on hand, are estimated to be sufficient to cover the expenditure for making the proposed improvement.

The stock and bonds will be sold to the present Stockholders at par, in proportion to the amount of stock held by them in this Company, at the time of closing the transfer books, Oct. 1, 1863.

Stockholders, whose stock is registered on the books of the Company, in Cincinnati, desirous of taking their proportion of stock and bonds, will notify F. H. Short, Secretary of the Company, on or before Tuesday, the 20th inst. Such Stockholders as have their stock registered on the books of the Company, in New-York, and who are desirous of taking their proportion of stock and bonds, will notify E. R. Bebb, Esq., No. 7 Barclay-st., New-York, on or before the 20th inst.

The stock and bonds will be ready for delivery in Cincinnati and New-York to those who have given notice of their desire to receive them on the 26th inst. Stockholders, whose stock is registered in New-York, will call, as above named, on E. R. Bebb, Esq.

The portion of the stock and bonds of those who may neglect or decline to give notice of their intention to receive them, will be offered pro rata at par to such stockholders as have given the notice.

In cases where the Stockholders do not hold sufficient stock to entitle them to a share of stock or a bond, certificates will be issued, redeemable with stock or bonds, as the case may be, on the presentation of a sufficient amount of such certificates.

Stockholders who accept this proposition are required to take both stock and bonds. They cannot be taken separately.

By order of the Board of Directors.
S. S. L'HOMMEDIEU, President.
F. H. SHORT, Secretary.

MEDICAL.

PRIVATE DISEASES CURED IN THE shortest possible time, by Dr. WARD & CO., No. 50 Lispenard-st., near Broadway, without the use of Mercury, loss of time or change of diet. Dr. WARD, from the hospitals of London, Paris and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 26 years' practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and expense than any one can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health, call; it will take but little money and time to restore you. If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this much neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhœa or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from Impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks. Permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to Dr. WARD, No 50 Lispenard-st., the only place. Call, send for a circular, or write.

Thirty years of extensive practice, exclusively devoted to the treatment of those complaints enable us to effect cures in cases where others of less experience have failed. Ward and Powers, the champions and kings of venereal diseases, possessing the most certain, speedy and only effectual remedies in the world, guarantee a perfect cure, or no charge, in from one to three days. Established in 1834. Those who have used their preventives are never without. Send for a circular. To Ladies.—Dr. Powers' Periodical Drops are a safe and certain remedy for monthly irregularities. Strictures of the urethra, impotency, seminal weaknesses, &c., treated on the most scientific principles. N. B.—As a proof of Dr. C.'s qualifications, he would call special attention to his Diplomas, which can be seen in his office.

DR. COOPER, NO. 14 DUANE-ST., MAY BE confidently consulted on all diseases of a private nature. A practice of 30 years, devoted to the treatment and cure of Syphilitic, Mercurial and diseases of a delicate nature, enables Dr. C. to make speedy and permanent cures, no matter of how long standing the case may be. Strictures of the urethra and seminal weakness, brought on by a secret habit, effectually cured. The victims of misplaced confidence, who have been misled by quack advertisements, can call on Dr. C. with the certainty of being radically cured. N. B.—Dr. C. is a qualified physician and surgeon, and a member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New-York. Office hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

IMPORTANT TO THE MARRIED AND THOSE ABOUT TO BE MARRIED.—Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Professor of Diseases of Women, has just published the 160th edition of the valuable book, entitled "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION," strictly intended for those whose health or circumstances forbid a too rapid increase of family. Price $1. Sold at his office, No. 129 Liberty-st., New-York; or can be sent by mail, free of postage, to any part of the United States and Canada, by inclosing $1, and addressing Box No. 1,224 New-York City. For sale by H. RICHARDSON, at No. 1 Vesey-st., (Astor House,) and No. 18 Ann-st.; FEDERHEN & CO., 13 Court-st., Boston.

DR. WARD'S MAGICAL INVIGORATORS, IN the form of Pills, will, in fifteen minutes after being taken, make the recipient as vigorous as if nature had never been retarded or debilitated. To the unmarried or single, in every physical exigency, this unrivaled medicine is earnestly recommended as a complete restorative of the nervous system where manhood has been impaired. Procured of Dr. WARD, No. 50 Lispenard-st., between Broadway and Church-st. Call or send for circulars.

DR. POWERS' PERIODICAL DROPS are designed for both married and single ladies, and are the very best thing known for the purpose, as they will bring on the monthly sickness in cases of obstruction from any cause, and after all other remedies of the kind have been tried in vain. Expressly for obstinate cases. Warranted as represented in every respect, or the price will be refunded. Beware of imitations! Purchase directly of Dr POWERS, 50 Lispenard-st., New-York.

DR HUNTER'S RED DROP RESTORES the vigor of youth in four days. Restores manhood to the most shattered system. No. 3 Division-st., New-York, the only place. Beware of bogus Dr. Hunters. The City is full of knaves, up to every trick to rob him of his great reputation as a skillful and reliable physician. No other office but No. 3 Division-st. Established in 1834. Eight separate rooms and a private entrance.

SOMETHING FOR EVERY LADY.—DR. WARD'S Great Female Benefactor or Golden Regulating Pills. Infallible in correcting, regulating and removing all obstructions, from whatever cause, and they will never disappoint the anxious patient. Office No. 50 Lispenard-st., near Broadway, where Dr. WARD can be consulted, confidentially, day and evening.

ADVICE TO LADIES.—IN ALL CASES where infallible medicines are desired, or mode of treatment that never fails, call upon Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Professor of diseases of Women, author of "The Married Woman's Private Medical Companion," who treats female complaints exclusively. Office 129 Liberty-st.

PRIVATE CONSULTATION.—DR. HUNTER has for thirty years confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated no less than fifty thousand cases without an instance of failure. His great remedy, HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures certain diseases when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; cures without the dreadful consequent effects of mercury, but possesses the peculiarly valuable property of annihilating the rank and poisonous taint that the blood is sure to absorb unless his remedy is used. That is what he claims for it, and what no other will accomplish. Its value in this respect has become so well known, that scientific men in every department of medical knowledge begin to appreciate it, for hardly a week passes that he is not consulted by druggists, chemists and physicians in regard to some pitiful patient who has exhausted the whole field of the faculty, and still the disease will appear. Its popularity is so great that there is not a quack doctor in the City that has not attacked it, and when they find their lies are not so easily swallowed, they then pretend that they can make it. It is $1 a vial, and cannot be obtained genuine anywhere but at the old office, No. 3 Division-st. Book for 15 three-cent stamps, 300 pages, 100 colored illustrations. The best work out.

IMPORTANT FROM CENTRAL AMERICA

ARRIVAL OF THE OCEAN QUEEN.

The States of Colombia Declared at War.

MOSQUERA LEVIES 8,000 MEN.

The steamer Ocean Queen, which arrived at this port yesterday, brings dates from Aspinwall and Panama to the 7th inst., and the following important intelligence:

Gen. MOSQUERA had declared the United States of Colombia in a state of war, and ordered a levy of 8,000 troops.

The Archbishop of Bogota has been imprisoned until he tenders his unconditional submission to the new constitution.

An interview between Presidents CARRERA, of Guatemala, and BARRIOS, of San Salvador, resulted in nothing. CARRERA demanded that BARRIOS should dismiss the troops, deliver their arms to CARRERA, and leave the country himself. BARRIOS declined, but proposed to resign his command, and give a decree of amnesty, if the allied forces would leave Salvador. This CARRERA declined.

The Ocean Queen brings the following treasure:

CENTRAL AMERICA.

PANAMA, Wednesday, Oct. 7, 1863.

The Panama Railroad Company's steamship Salvador, Capt. BOWDITCH, arrived at this port on the 5th inst. from Central American ports. Her dates from St. Jose de Guatemala are to the 25th, and La Union, Salvador, to the 30th September; from Realejo, Nicaragua, to the 1st, and from Punta Arenas de Costa Rica to the 3d inst. The Salvador brings passengers and the following freight list:

From San Francisco—203 bags coffee. South Pacific—5 bags cocoa, 56 seroons indigo, 2 boxes samples, 1 package samples, 2 cases cigars. Aspinwall—10 cans balsam, 10 seroons indigo, 5 deer skins. New-York—713 hides, 23 bales deer skins, 3 bales cotton, 1 package coin. Southampton—8 bars silver, 1 case merchandise, 138 seroons cochineal, 2 boxes treasure, 2 packages treasure, 12 seroons indigo. Liverpool—12 bales india rubber, 12 bales cotton, 5 cans balsam, 7 bales deer skins, 10 seroons indigo, 223 hides, 19 bales cocoa, 1 case merchandise. Panama—$1,150 in coin, 1 seroon cocoa, 47 seroons indigo, 16 bags potatoes, 175 cedar planks, 1 bundle mats, 1 case cigars.

GUATEMALA AND SALVADOR.

The siege of the City of San Salvador by President CARRERA appears to be drawing toward a close—BARRIOS' lines becoming every day more and more contracted. On the 27th September, Presidents BARRIOS and CARRERA had an interview near the City of Santa Tecla, occupied by the troops of the latter. The two chiefs were accompanied by Gens. ZAVALA and CABAÑAS, and Mr. PARTRIDGE, the United States Minister resident at Salvador. CARRERA demanded that BARRIOS surrender all his force, their arms, and all munitions of war within twelve hours, as also his ships, and leave the country within three days for any State he might select. All property of BARRIOS and his friends to be guaranteed, except of such persons who are charged with peculations on the national funds. CARRERA's troops to occupy the Capital as auxiliaries of the Provisional Government, the head of which claims to be Señor DUENOS, and to remain in occupation so long as that Government may deem it convenient. BARRIOS refused to accede to these terms, but proposed to resign his command in favor of one of his Senators, and issue a decree of amnesty, if the forces of CARRERA would withdraw from the Republic. Nothing came of the interview.

It is represented that Gen. CARRERA has 8,000 men before the City of San Salvador—that he occupies BARRIOS' only ports, La Union and La Libertad, as also all the interior, except San Miguel, occupied by President MARTINEZ, of Nicaragua, his ally—while BARRIOS has only 3,000 men in the San Salvador, defended by a double line of fortifications, but from which he must soon be starved or driven out. CARRERA had issued a decree, dated Sept. 18, calling upon BARRIOS to surrender within forty-eight hours, otherwise he would be treated and judged as a factionist; but up to the 24th no attack had been made.

There does not seem to be anything of importance from either Nicaragua or Costa Rica.

COLOMBIA.

PANAMA, Wednesday, Oct. 7, 1863.

The British steamship Tyne arrived at Aspinwall on the 4th instant., from Carthagena, having sailed from the latter port on the 3d. The news from Bogota, the capital, is more interesting than usual. Gen. MOSQUERA, Provisional President, has issued some decrees, which had caused a good deal of excitement throughout the States. One, raises the army to 8,000 men, and another declares the Republic in a state of war. As the President does not say with whom the Republic is at war, some of his friends interpret the proclamation to mean that it is with Ecuador, others that the priests are trying to get up a revolution, while his enemies pretend to believe that these 8,000 men are to be used to make him President in April, instead of Señor MANUEL MURILLO, toward which latter, public opinion seems to incline. I have but little doubt, however, that we are drifting into a war with Ecuador.

The people of Bogota are complaining bitterly of a new appointment lately made by Gen. MOSQUERA—that of a military Prefect for the Capital—and the Municipality has protested energetically against it. When Gen. MOSQUERA left Bogota for his State of Cauca, the Convention gave him leave of absence till the 15th of October, on condition that if he did not resume his place as Executive head by that time, the civil power should pass into the hands of Gen. GUTIERREZ till the regular election. It is now charged, but probably falsely, that Gen. MOSQUERA, not being disposed to return to Bogota within the limits, has appointed this military Prefect, in his interest, to practically annul the law referred to of the Convention.

Another decree of Gen. MOSQUERA has been very badly received. He has ordered the suspension of the emission of new treasury notes, but will receive those of the old emission for National dues, at the prices they may be held at in the market of the locality in which they may be paid in.

Another order of the President is, that Archbishop HERRAN, brother of the late Colombian Minister to Washington, shall be sent to Popayan, capital of the State of Cauca, where he shall be confined until he submits unconditionally to the Constitution, laws, and authority of the Republic. He has also given an order that the priest SAAVEDRA be sent to his military headquarters at Pasto. This priest was one of the principal advocates and supporters of Gen. MOSQUERA's decrees against the Church interest, but has lately turned tail to his former professions, and is now found to be one of MOSQUERA's most bitter revilers.

Some of the Presses in Colombia have opened their artillery on Gen. MOSQUERA, "because of his apparent determination to be the next President of the Republic, at whatever cost."

On the whole, matters look rather stormy with us, and unless we have very good luck, the country will again be at war, externally or internally, or both, within six months.

We have nothing of local interest. Gov. SANTACOLOMA has gone to Chiriqui, in this State, with a small military force, on a rumor that some disturbances had occurred there, or were likely to occur.

The United States sloop-of-war St. Mary's and the United States gunboat Saginaw are at Panama. There have been four cases of small-pox among the crew of the St. Mary's, but the patients were removed to a house on the Island of Flamenco, and are all doing well. I understand that this ship is short of men, having lost fifty men by desertion. The British war-ship Charybdis is in the bay of Panama. No war ship at Aspinwall. The United States store-ship Falmouth is advertised to be sold there, at auction, in November.

The Panama Railroad Company's brig Caroline arrived at Aspinwall, from New-York, on the 4th inst.

E. D. DENNIS, Esq., agent of WELLS, FARGO & Co., and of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company at Aspinwall, goes to New-York to-day. Also, five young Spanish lads from Panama, to be educated in New-York.

SOUTH AMERICA.

PANAMA, Wednesday, Oct. 7, 1863.

By the regular British mail steamer from South American ports, we have dates from Valparaiso and Santiago de Chili to Sept. 17, and from Callao and Lima to 29th same month. The Lima Comercio, of Sept. 29, has the following:

News received at Lima, by way of Moyobamba, state that the privateer Alabama made her appearance at the island of Fernando on the 10th of March, and that her commander SEMMES went there on shore. This vessel, fitted out in England, and having never entered any port of the United States, had captured, until the 17th of March, forty vessels, and amongst them the ships Klate Core and Lafayette, in places that belong to Brazilian jurisdiction."

At the Island of San Fernando the Alabama put on shore 62 men of the captured crews; amongst them are several captains who give some interesting information regarding the privateer. The sailors of the captured vessels are secured with iron fetters; officers are exempted from this treatment, but both are strictly searched and deprived of their gold and papers. These are packed up and sealed carefully. The service offered by the sailors is accepted; the others are put on board another vessel or sent on shore whenever opportunity offers.

The Alabama is a regular sized bark, armed with two enormous swivels and two more pieces at each side, manned by 120 men of all nations—especially English—who are commanded by the Captain and his first officer KELL.

Señor SANZ, Peruvian Minister to England, is to be succeeded by Señor P. GALVEZ, now Minister to Paris. Señor GALVEZ will be replaced by Gen. VIVANCO.

Gen. CASTILLA, late President, is to be a candidate for the Senate from Callao.

President PEZET has issued an order that there shall be no Government interference in elections.

BOLIVIA.

This State is perfectly tranquil, and the Government is turning its attention to the development of the gold mines, the making of roads, and the navigation of the rivers.

CHILE.

"Profound indignation" is the sentiment entertained among all classes in Chile, at the action of the French Government in forcing a monarchy upon Mexico. A discussion on the subject had taken place in Congress, and the Minister for Foreign Affairs was requested to express himself as to whether Chile ought to recognize such a Government. The Minister did not answer. Several notes had been exchanged between Mr. NELSON, United States Minister to Santiago, and the Minister of Foreign Affairs, on Mexican matters, "and it is a consolation to learn from them that both Governments are possessed of like sentiments of aversion to crowned heads on American soil," &c. The Argentine Republic has sent an agent to Chile to confer on Mexican affairs, it is said.

The Chilian Congress had adjourned to Oct. 1. On a discussion in the Chambers on a "theocratic" question, a decided disinclination to increase Roman influence in America was expressed.

On the 15th the whole line of railroad from Valparaiso to Santiago was opened.

Business had been remarkably dull in Valparaiso the previous fortnight. The prospects were bad for good crops, as no rains have fallen, and the dry Winter will produce serious results. Fears are entertained by some for the wheat crops, but others say there will be an average yield. Flour was selling at from $3 12@$3 18, 6 months. Barley is selling at $3 the fanega; sales limited. Copper had slightly advanced. A parcel of 174,000 feet lumber from Boston had been sold on private terms, but believed to be at from $50 to $55 per 1,000 feet. In freights, vessels have been generally taken at £4 for Europe. The Ocean Pearl, from Boston, goes to the Chinchas for guano. Exchange on London, 60 to 90 days, 43¾ to 44 pence per dollar. On Paris 4f. 65c. to 4f. 70c. On United States 30 to 40 per cent. discount.

Amusements.

WINTER GARDEN.—The play of "Ruy Blas" produced at this establishment Wednesday night, belongs to a period of VICTOR HUGO's career, when flushed with his victories over the formalists of the schools he had determined to carry the romantic drama to its greatest extent. Sentimentalism can hardly go further than in the character of the hero, unless we except the love-lorn flunkey of the more recent yellow-covered literature—the Jeames who married his young mistress—as a type of a high emotional nature. There are points of resemblance, indeed, between Ruy Blas and the last named character. When we become acquainted with him, he is in the guise of a serving-man. A noble by association he becomes a menial in order that he may be near the lady whom he is not at liberty to approach in any other way. This is none other than the Princess, shortly to become Queen of Spain by marriage with the monarch. One of Ruy's old associates, Don Cæsar, recognizes him, and the recognition is witnessed by the evil genius of the play, Don Salluste, who also overhears the domestic's declaration of love. Don Salluste has recently been degraded, mainly through the Princess' means. He determines to be revenged, and uses Ruy Blas to effect his object. Assuming the title of Don Cæsar, who in the meantime has been sent out of the way, he (Ruy) makes love to the Princess, and in the last scene has an interview with her which is sufficient to compromise her with her future husband. Don Salluste is, of course, a witness, but he is not permitted to enjoy his triumph. The despised menial turns upon him; a struggle ensues, and both are killed. The Princess, it is presumed, returns to the palace, and no one hears of her indiscretion.

The central idea of the play has been used by BULWER and other dramatists. Notwithstanding its ultra romanticism, it unfolds itself naturally into a series of strong situations, and the catastrophe is afflicting to an average audience, and therefore powerful. The two leading characters—Ruy Blas and Don Salluste—are drawn with great power; the humility of the first contrasting tremendously with the arrogance of the second. The scenes wherein Don Salluste contemptuously exercises his power over the writhing Ruy Blas are only excelled by the energy of the dénouement, where the latter, recovering his manhood, brings his remorseless taskmaster to a heavy reckoning. The language is eloquent, sometimes rhapsodical, always above the average, and the piece generally may be stated as a very valuable addition to Mr. BOOTH's repertoire. We have seldom seen the gentleman to greater advantage than in the first and second acts. Mr. FECHTER, who made a great hit in the part, does not interpret it in a better vein. The last act did not appear to be quite so well studied, but it was thoroughly effective, and insured the success of the play. Mr. HAGAN's performance of the important rôle of Don Salluste was uneven, and completely inadequate to the occasion. Mr. BARRETT as Don Cæsar lacks the gay audacity of the character, but in the third act was excellent, and received the honor of a call before the curtain. Mrs. CHANFRAU looked exceedingly charming as the Princess. The remaining characters cannot be recalled with pleasure.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—The opera of "La Traviata" will be given this evening, with Mlle. ORTOLANI, BRIGNOLI, MASSOLENI, BELLINI and others.

To-morrow, (Saturday,) at 1, a matinée will be given. The opera of "Rigoletto," with KELLOGG, SULZER, MASSOLENI, BELLINI and COLLETTI, will form the entertainment on this occasion.
